

URGES 39 GRADE SEPARATIONS FOR COUNTY'S ROADS

Advisory Committee Maps $7,873,600 Program.

Cook county pays for ONE-HALF and gets ONE-THIRTY-FIFTH of the state's highways.

The construction of thirty-nine grade separations on Cook county highways is recommended by a city advisory committee appointed last November by the county board. A tentative draft of the recommendations was approved at a meeting of the committee yesterday and the formal report to the board will be made within two weeks.

The plan calls for a three year building program. The estimated total cost is $7,873,600.

The locations proposed for the two new highway intersections will not be made public until the sequence of their construction is decided by the committee. This is to avoid any unnecessary friction between sectional city operators.

Stevens Heads Committee.
Members of the advisory body are: James T. Stevens, chairman; W. E. R. Abbott; Joseph K. Brittain of the Chicago Real Estate board; Lafayette Marks of the Chicago Automobile Association; and Robert E. Shaggy, general manager of the Chicago Regional Planning Association. Robert H. Nau of the Chicago Association of Commerce is secretary of the committee.

The advisers point out that the program may be started by using Cook county's share, approximately $1,200,000, of the $5,500,000 collected by the state under the defunct 1927 gasoline tax. Reports from Springfield say that the oil companies have agreed to withdraw their injunction suits, which have prevented any of this money from being spent.

Another possible source of money for the projects is seen in the $3,250,000 that is the state's share of the 1927 gasoline tax fund. Several proposed grade separations are on state highways within the county and Gov. Emmerson might be induced to use this opportunity toward fulfilling his campaign promise to relieve metropolitan traffic conditions.

New Gas Tax May Help.
More revenue for the program is seen in the new gasoline tax which becomes effective on Aug. 1. State highway officials have talked of spending $2,000,000 of this revenue on grade separations.

For the balance of the money a county bond issue is recommended. The amount of the issue is contingent upon the amount of money derived from other sources.

"We want to start work as soon as possible," said County Commissioner Joseph L. Bontell, chairman of the board's subcommittee on grade separations. "Our first consideration is a prompt reduction in the death toll due to antiquated highway construction. Our second is to relieve the road congestion."

Four Designs Suggested.
The citizens' committee, in its eight months' study, also prepared recommendations on types of grade crossings. The report will submit specifications on four designs for the consideration of the county board.

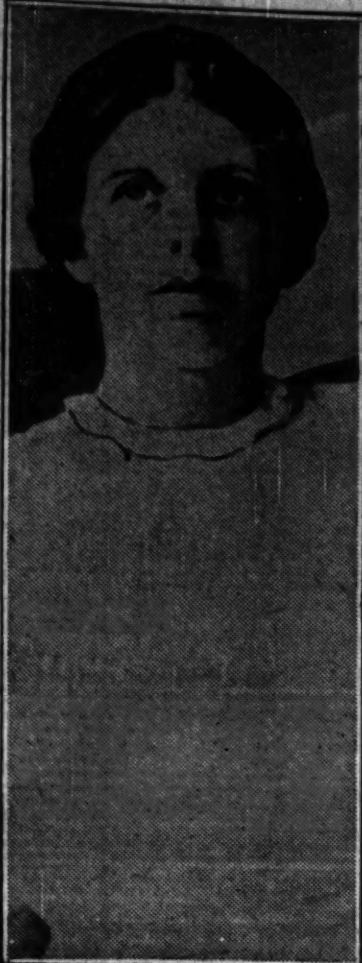

No. 1 is called the "depressed type," with one road passing under the normal level of the other. It calls for a minimum width of forty feet for the underpass, with a twenty foot ground level drive on each side to serve the abutting property. This is the design specified in the contract for the Dempster-Milwaukee intersection, which will cost $235,000, including lights and drainage.

No. 2 is the "park type," with a raised ramp, such as is in use at North Avenue and Lake Shore drive and at the intersections of Lincoln park's outer drive at Montrose avenue and at Irving Park boulevard. This design is considered of special value at locations where service drives for abutting property are not required.

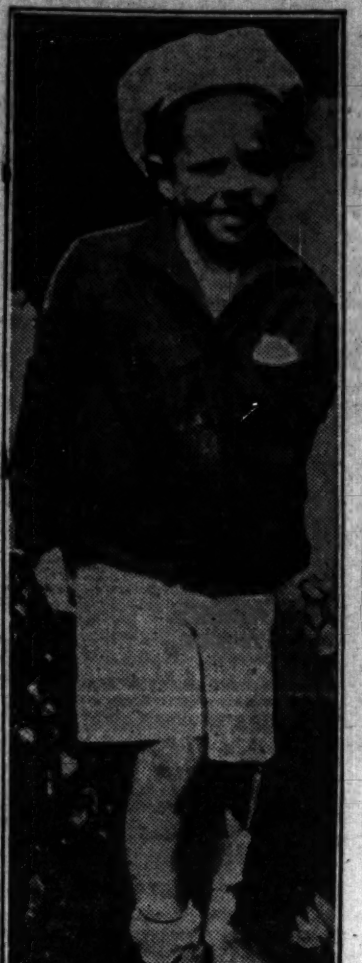

No. 3 is the "two level type." Michigan and Grand avenues is an example. No. 4 is the "elevated type," with one road raised while the other remains at ground level. The minimum width recommended for the elevated highway is forty feet. Bordering it on each side would be twenty feet of pavement at ground level to serve the abutting property.

is the only known survivor of the car in the creek bed. He declared he had been awakened a few minutes before the wreck and with the first impact had been slightly stunned, but the lurching of the cold water into his berth had revived him, and he immediately punched out the window glass and left the car. He was aided only in his pajamas, and other survivors pulled him from the water. His clothing and baggage were lost with the car.

Woman Dies by Freak of Fate.
An ironical turn of fate probably cost the life of Mrs. Mary McDonald of West Palm Beach, Fla., who had traveled the entire way from St. Louis yesterday in the car immediately back of the ill fated one. To avoid dressing early in the morning to change cars for Colorado Springs, she changed compartments last night and rode to her death. One of her handbags was found in the rear car today.

As soon as rescue crews could be organized at Goodland, Kan., and Limon, Colo., the survivors were returned to Goodland, and thence to Oakley, Kan., where they resumed their journey west.

Late tonight wrecking cranes had been established at both ends of the creek and grappling hooks and chains were being put in place in an attempt to raise the submerged car.

Fear for Child's Life.
The first rescue train, returning from the scene of the wreck, took a dozen of the injured to Colorado Springs this afternoon. They were removed to Goodland hospital for treatment.

One of the most seriously injured passengers taken to Colorado Springs was Ruth Stoll, 5, daughter of Mrs. Clarissa Stoll of Compton, Cal. The child was thrown clear of the wrecked car in which she was riding, and was almost buried in the sand on the creek bank. When rescued she had drawn into her lungs a quantity of sand and water. Her condition tonight was serious.

Others taken to Colorado Springs for treatment were Kenneth Hoff, 2411 Liberty avenue, Terre Haute, Ind., and his bride, Mrs. Ruth Hoff. They were on a honeymoon trip.

LONE SURVIVOR OF FLOODED PULLMAN TELLS OF HIS ESCAPE

Stratton, Colo., July 18.—[U.P.]—E. J. Perry of Rockford, Mass., believed to be the only survivor in the Pullman car that was submerged when a Rock Island train dropped through a bridge near here, described today the "most horrible experience I can imagine."

Perry arrived at a hotel here, his hands cut and suffering from shock. "I owe my life to the fact that I was awake when the wreck occurred," he said. "It was shortly before 4 a. m. I felt a terrible blow as if I were being thrown against a stone wall and heard the screeching application of brakes. Suddenly there was a breathless drop downward, as in a falling elevator. Then I felt water pouring about my feet in the Pullman berth and flooding the car."

"I broke a window in the berth, using a pair of shoes and my hands. Climbing through the window and into the water, I got to the surface somehow and grabbed a railroad tie. Clinging to the tie, I managed to get to the bank."

FARMERS TOLD FIRST REQUISITE IS TO ORGANIZE

New Board Explains Its Limited Powers.

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)

Washington, D. C., July 18.—(Special.)—The President's newly appointed federal farm board today appealed to the farmers of the country to organize if they desire financial assistance from the agencies set up under the farm relief law passed by the special session.

Following a long executive session, at which legal experts were examined and a study made of the farm act, Chairman Alexander Legge of Chicago announced that under the terms of the act the board apparently was limited in its loaning operations to giving financial assistance to regularly organized cooperatives.

Chairman Legge said that so far as the board had been able to discover no provision had been made for giving loans to individual farmers or to farmer groups unless they were organized under the state law as co-operatives and were farmer owned and controlled. Scores of applications from individual farmers and small organizations have reached the board within the last few days, Mr. Legge said.

Only One-Third Organized.

According to figures given out by the board, only about one-third of the farmers of the country are members of cooperatives and thus in a position to obtain such financial assistance as the board will offer when it is thoroughly organized. The board's figures show 2,000,000 farmers organized out of a total of six and a half million.

"Our big problem," Mr. Legge said today, "is to get the farmers cooperatively minded. The better the farming groups are organized, the better we will be able to help them. Our plan now is to do as much as possible to bring the necessity of organizing home to the average farmer."

"From the letters and applications for loans which are coming to the board, it is easy to see that the powers of our organization are not thoroughly understood. Apparently there is much confusion as to just what the board can do. The farm act is designed to aid farmers through cooperatives. The farmers must organize so we can reach them."

She Not Important.

"Does the size of the cooperative make any difference?" Mr. Legge was asked.

"It does not," he answered. "So long as the cooperative is organized properly it is eligible for such aid as we can give. A farmer's elevator organization, if organized properly, is a cooperative under the act. It is the board's duty to see that the board still held the position that it was set up to supplement rather than supplant present facilities available for aiding the farmer in his crop. He said that while, of course, the board could make loans to cooperatives for marketing purposes, its policy would be to make such loans only when the farmer's organization was unable to obtain funds at a reasonable rate from present facilities."

Explains Wheat Price.

Discussing the wheat situation, Chairman Legge said he believed the present price of wheat was justified by conditions. He remarked, however, that the rise of 50 cents in thirty days was so rapid that a small drop should not be a surprising development. Mr. Legge said that, even if wheat prices went down, this would not mean that wheat is too high.

President Hoover leaves for his fishing camp at the head waters of the Rapidan river in Virginia tomorrow, and it is understood some members on the farm board will accompany him. The board expects to leave at 8 o'clock tomorrow and return Monday forenoon. As the President cannot fish because of the closed trout season, he spends some of his time making dams in the creek which traverses the camp area.

GEN. EDWARDS ON WAY TO SETTLE VETERANS' FUND

Maj.-Gen. Clarence Edwards, veteran army officer, and commander of the Yankee division overseas, passed through Chicago yesterday on his way to the western coast. Although now retired after having spent 40 years in the army, he is supplementing that service by acting as executor of the late Lotta Crabtree's $2,000,000 estate which she left to wounded war veterans.

"We've had a battle in the courts since Miss Crabtree died in 1924," Gen. Edwards said. "With 110 claimants fighting for a share in the estate, we have at last got rid of them, and I'm on my way now to make the last settlements so the money will be ready for the use Miss Crabtree intended."

Miss Crabtree, the visitor recalled, was in a weak physical condition during the war, but the actress played frequently for the men in hospitals. She died in Boston five years ago at the age of 77 years.

Gen. Edwards was met at the New York Central by representatives of the American Legion and the Forty and Eight. He was a guest at luncheon of the David Shillingham post of the American Legion.

Georgia Solons Ask Farm Board to Help Cotton Men

Atlanta, Ga., July 18.—(AP)—Immediate action by the national farm relief board to insure the cotton farmer the cost of production and a reasonable profit was requested in a resolution adopted today by the Georgia house of representatives. Commendation was voiced of similar action by the Texas legislature. The resolution pointed out that 15½ cents today's price was below production cost.

ALDERMEN ORDER CUNEO'S TOWER PERMIT REVOKED

Skyscraper Blocked, Officials Believe.

advantage of this council," Ald. Nelson retorted. "This amendment was put through without a hearing. You are no martyr."

Following passage of the motion, it was agreed that another meeting will be held next week to which all interested parties and organizations will be invited. At that time, Chairman O'Toole announced, everybody will be given a hearing and the merits of the amendment discussed.

How Tower Plan Started. According to the story circulated at the city hall yesterday, the Cuneo tower idea was born many months ago, long before the city council or the public knew anything about it. It had its roots in the attempt of the Insull syndicate to buy the Cuneo property.

Mr. Cuneo's property, a 63x33 foot lot, is at the south end of the right-angle bounded by Michigan avenue, Lake street, Dearborn court, and Randolph street. The Insull group controls the 132x33 feet adjoining the Cuneo property on the north. Together the two parcels comprise one of the most ideal building sites in the downtown district, and the Insull syndicate conceived the plan to buy out Mr. Cuneo and put up a mammoth structure.

Not only did the syndicate propose to buy the Cuneo property, but it also opened negotiations with the Illinois Central railroad whereby Dearborn court was to be vacated and a street opened 150 feet east of Michigan avenue.

ture. This would have given the building a land depth of 215 instead of 93 feet.

Enthusiasts of the Insull men made contact with Mr. Cuneo and started dickering. They did not get far. Cuneo was said to have asked upwards of $4,000,000, and boosted the ante as negotiations went on. Finally there was an open break and Mr. Cuneo, the story goes, decided to put up a skyscraper on his own little corner lot. Looking about for somebody to handle the matter at the city hall, Mr. Cuneo struck upon Attorney Hodges, who had been an assistant corporation counsel during the Dever regime and since had handled various ordinances for the building department and the zoning board of appeals. Mr. Hodges was retained and he proceeded to draft the necessary amendment to the building code to fit Mr. Cuneo's program.

Gives Plan to O'Toole.

The amendment, in substance, provided that upon any lot bounded by three streets 100 feet wide and fronting on a park or waterway, a building could be erected 40 stories up from the sidewalk and with setbacks towers above. Under this amendment Mr. Cuneo would be allowed to put up a needle like shaft on his corner, dwarfing skyscrapers like the Morrison hotel and Palmolive building, which conformed to the old ordinance requiring setbacks at 23 to 24 stories. On the Insull property, only old time building could have been constructed.

The next step was to get the right man to put the amendment through the council. That man obviously was the chairman of the buildings and zoning committee, Ald. O'Toole, and Hodges gave the amendment to him.

The amendment was introduced into the council on May 2 by Ald. O'Toole and referred to his committee. It was recommended for passage by the committee on June 3, and the council approved it by a vote of 43 to 0 on June 14. Interviewed later, not a single councilman, except O'Toole, remembered voting for the amendment. It was not explained, there were no roll calls, and it slipped through along with the usual batch of zoning amendments unheeded. It was published in the official newspaper and became effective on July 8.

Meanwhile, Mr. Cuneo had been pushing things rapidly. Three weeks before the amendment went into effect he employed Burnham brothers, architects, to rush out a set of plans and by working day and night they were finished on July 8. On July 8 a Building Commissioner Paschen issued a permit and a week later laborers were shoveling dirt for the caissons.

Press reports about the Cuneo tower evoked first an attack by Alfred Granger of the Illinois Society of Architects and Harold Cheney of the Chicago chapter of the American Institute of Architects and then a deluge of complaints from owners of other buildings. Then came the council demands for an inquiry.

CIGAR SALESMAN IS ARRESTED FOR EMBEZZLEMENT

William S. Lane, 3936 Normandy avenue, Evanston, a salesman for the General Cigar company, was arrested last night on a warrant issued in the municipal court charging embezzlement. B. J. Androsky, an official of the company, told police Lane had appropriated $11,000 to his own use over a period of years.

Going to Lane's address to make the arrest, detectives found his wife and child there and learned that the house is for sale for $40,000. They left without revealing their mission, but returned at night and found Lane at home.

MANUFACTURERS STUDY PROPOSED REFRIGERANT LAW

Confer with Aldermen on Regulation of Boxes.

Leaders in the refrigeration industry which have installed more than 2,000,000 electric refrigerators over the country last night were studying a proposed ordinance to regulate and make the refrigerators safe, submitted to a subcommittee of the city council by Health Commissioner Kegel. Seven recent deaths in Chicago have been attributed to gases used in refrigerators.

The manufacturers and distributors, who announced themselves in perfect accord with the city officials in their desire to safeguard the public, were to report back to the aldermanic committee and Dr. Kegel on Monday or Tuesday. All differences on the ordinance were to be ironed out, and it was to be submitted to the council committee on health and then to a special meeting of the council itself.

Eden Urges Speed.

Ald. Charles E. Eden (8th) pointed out that after the city council passes the ordinance must be published for ten days before it becomes a law. "We should push this matter with all speed," Ald. Eden said. "It will be at least 15 days after we have approved the ordinance before it becomes effective for the protection around the people. So we must have no unnecessary delays."

The proposed ordinance is a document of 19 pages, delegating the powers of inspection and regulation to the health commissioner and providing for the material to be used in the installations down to the last pipe, joint and valve.

Requires Odorous Gases.

A principal clause, relating to the use of the poisonous gases in the machines, was as follows:

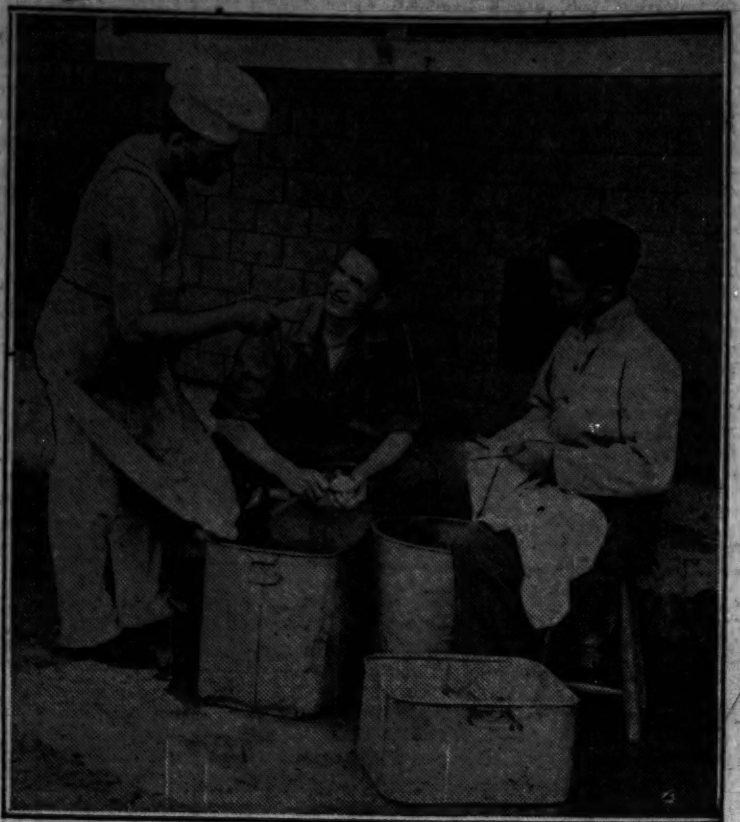

"Permits issued for the installation and maintenance of refrigeration systems and certificates of approval issued for such systems, shall state the amount, composition or constituents of the refrigerant used. All poisonous or toxic refrigerants used in any direct system of refrigeration shall have a distinct and easily recognizable odor or characteristic irritant properties. Every refrigerant used must be approved as to the aforesaid properties by the commissioner of health."

This clause, it passed, would automatically stop the use of methyl chloride, colorless and odorless poison gas, which has been blamed for all of the recent deaths in Chicago. The clause was not discussed in the meeting yesterday, and the city officials believe the manufacturers will not make a fight on it, as they appear to recognize something must be done about its use.

Agencies of Industry Here.

The men representing the industry, who will remain in Chicago until the controversy is settled are R. Bourke Green, manager of the Electric Association of Chicago; Glenn Murphy, Copeland Products, Inc., Detroit; E. T. Williams, Serval, Inc., New York; J. Cooper, Jr., General Electric company, Chicago; R. W. Kritzer, Peerless Ice

Mr. Corcoran, inasmuch as he is neutral in the controversy, is chairman of the committee. Former State Senator Thurlow G. Easton is counsel for the industry.

Ald. Easton opened yesterday's meeting by stating the purpose of the health commissioner and the council committee to pass an ordinance regulating the "iceless" refrigeration industry.

Warns Against Delay.

"Delay now is intolerable," the alderman said. "While we have been considering this matter more deaths have come. We must act at once."

Following the reading of the ordinance, of which each man present was given a copy, Ald. Joseph C. Ross (4th), a doctor, moved that Health Commissioner Kegel use all police powers and precautions to safeguard public health until the ordinance is passed. The motion was carried.

Charles Mulcahy, business manager of the Chicago Journeymen Plumbers' association, caused a stir in the meeting when he told of sending plumbers to a building at 100 East 47th street, in which there are 419 refrigerators supplied by a central methyl chloride plant in the basement.

Mr. Mulcahy said a negro living in the building had pulled his box away from the wall, that the "fumes" connection had broken immediately and a cloud of the deadly gas had been released.

Mr. Kritzer of the Peerless company, arose and objected to Mulcahy's remarks. Ald. Easton at once stopped the controversy.

2,000 YOUTHS TO BEGIN DRILL AT C. M. T. C. TODAY

Rookies Assemble for 30 Days of Training.

Two thousand eleven young men, some past from clerical or scholastic work, some bent by rural toil, and a few bronzed by outdoor sports, reported at Fort Sheridan yesterday for the opening of the seventh annual Citizens' Military Training camp.

Fifty others, among them a tearful 15 year old applicant from Wisconsin, were sent home, their applications rejected on account of physical disabilities. Officers said the disappointed youngster from Wisconsin was hardly taller than the rifle he expected to carry. Five hundred additional recruits were expected to arrive today, this contingent filling the quota of 2,500 fixed by the war department.

For the next thirty days these raw recruits from city rooming houses, farms, and suburban homes will be put through the paces of stiff military discipline by seasoned army officers, at the government's expense. Their habitat will be Camp Delly, a tented city overlooking Lake Michigan, and their exercising instrument a 15 pound Springfield rifle.

Start Day at 8:45.

The grind will start at 8:45 a. m. today, when the bugles sound reveille. Their appetites whetted by an hour of policing the camp, the rookies will take breakfast. Four hours' drill will follow, with ten minute recesses to relieve tired muscles and a half pint of milk to quench the inevitable thirst of strenuous exercise.

After the morning taste of army routine and a fifty minute lunch period, the recruits will be freshened by an afternoon of supervised athletics. The routine will be varied by the granting of liberty on Wednesday and Saturday afternoons.

The first camp ceremonial will take place tomorrow when the recruits are formally sworn in. Civic organizations of the north shore suburbs have been invited to witness the ceremony.

2 MORE STEAMSHIP LINES DISCONTINUE MIDNIGHT SAILINGS

New York, July 18.—[Special].—The Cunard and Lloyd Sabando steamship lines today announced they would discontinue the sailing of their ships at midnight.

The French line recently announced it also would change its schedule. The Berengaria and the Aquitania will sail hereafter at 10 a. m. on Wednesday, and the Lloyd Sabando ships will sail Saturday at noon. The French line ships will sail Friday evening.

The Cunard line pointed out that its ships will land passengers at Cherbourg in the forenoon and Southampton late in the afternoon of the sixth day out. The new schedule will cut the time of passage ten to twelve hours.

which the fifty piece M. T. C. band will enliven with martial tunes. Brig. Gen. Caspar H. Conrad Jr., commandant of Fort Sheridan, will address the men.

Assigned to Companies.

Yesterday's arrivals were distributed as follows: 1,337 rookies to the basic course in six infantry companies; 350 second year men to the "red" cavalry unit; 215 third year men to the "white" cavalry unit, and 109 third year men to the "blue" cavalry unit. The remainder were divided among a machine gun company of 160 men, a headquarters company of 100, and the military band.

Conscience Hurts, Admits

Killing Girl 17 Years Ago

Cincinnati, O., July 18.—[U. P.]—Hounded by his conscience, Mike Sardella, 36, a baker, voluntarily confessed today to the murder, 17 years ago, of his sweetheart, Alexandra Chinis, whose death had been recorded a suicide. The murder, he said, was committed in a rooming house in Cheyenne, Wyo., in 1912. Sardella entered a police station today and told his story to an astonished desk sergeant. He was held pending confirmation from Cheyenne.

IRON WORKER IS KILLED.

BODY OF CAFE OWNER FOUND NEAR FOX LAKE

While hunting in "Wildwood," a forest tract two miles north of Fox Lake, a sixteen-year-old boy yesterday discovered the body of Otto E. Russell, 45 years old, owner of a restaurant at 1716 Belmont avenue, lying face downward over a shotgun from which one barrel had been fired.

Friends of Russell said he left last Thursday after saying he was "going to McHenry for a few days." A hunting license, issued July 11, was found in his pocket. Michael Dredling, 6953 Ridge avenue, who found the body, notified Lake county authorities and an inquest was held at Libertyville last night. It was found that he came to his death from "a gunshot wound in the head."

Marshal Joseph Riggs of Park Ridge, who is investigating, said he believed the man killed himself, either accidentally or intentionally. At the restaurant, which was left in charge of two waitresses, it was said that Russell jumped his bond on a liquor indictment followed a raid.

Gunman Admits Trying to Slay Austrian President

VIENNA, July 18.—Anton Leitner of Styria stood before the Ballhausplatz today and when Chancellor Stresemann came out he fired a revolver shot in the air. He was arrested on a charge of attempted murder. The prisoner explained he did not intend to kill the chancellor, but was after President Wilhelm Miksa, whom he blamed for the fact that he was unemployed.

EXPOSE CANNON AS A WARTIME FLOUR HOARDER

Bishop's Deal Censured
by U. S. Official.

BY WILLIAM LAWSON.

(Chicago Tribune Staff Service.)
Richmond, Va., July 18.—(Special.)—Indisputable evidence branding Bishop James Cannon Jr. of the Methodist Episcopal church, South, Ky-Saloon league chief and favored son of a new banishment Wall street, stock shop, as a food hoarder while other American citizens were helping to win the world war, was disclosed today.

Weeks of search, balked at every turn by fear of the bishop's wrath, finally resulted in the discovery of an authentic copy of the opinion, which, written by R. W. Boyden, chief enforcement officer of the food administration and approved by President Hoover, then food administrator, denounced the bishop's wartime speculation in flour as both illegal and immoral. Mr. Boyden, a prominent Boston lawyer, was an unofficial representative of the United States on the reparations commission after the war.

His Flare in Stocks.

When his flares in more than $100,000 of various stocks on a margin of only $2,500 through the now defunct Kable & Co. of New York attracted nation wide attention a few weeks ago, the bishop assailed publication of the story as "mud slinging" and an "effort by my political enemies to besmirch my character." Cannon's alliance with the bucket shop operators, now under indictment for using the mails to defraud, was revealed just as he openly launched a drive to regain political domination of the Virginia state government.

The Boyden opinion was written in response to a request by Senator Carter Glass (Dem., Va.), then a member of the house. On June 1, 1918, Mr. Glass, learning that the bishop had purchased 650 barrels of flour shortly before the food administration became effective on Aug. 10, 1917, asked Mr. Hoover for an opinion on the "legal and moral" aspects of the transaction.

A Telltale Letter.

The transaction was brought to the attention of Mr. Glass by a friend who exhibited a letter in which the bishop, seeking to allay gossip throughout Virginia that he was a food profiteer, admitted he had purchased 650 barrels of flour with his own money in the name of the Blackstone Female Institute, a Methodist college at Blackstone, Va., of which he was president.

Under the food laws, educational and charitable institutions, as well as hospitals, were exempt from conservation. The bishop's contention in the letter was that he bought the flour to protect the college against a possible shortage, but he did not explain what sudden developments occurred in the situation making it safe for him to sell the flour within a few weeks after the purchase.

In the letter the bishop insisted that the purchase was made with the knowledge of the trustees of Black-

FOX'S CONDITION GOOD, BUT ANOTHER BLOOD TRANSFUSION LIKELY

New York, July 18.—(Special.)—The condition of William Fox, head of the Fox Film corporation, who was injured yesterday when his automobile struck another car at Old Westbury, L. I., was reported good today by attendants at Nassau county hospital in Mineola. A second blood transfusion, however, may be made to speed his recovery.

Mr. Fox received a blood transfusion late yesterday and spent a fairly quiet night. He was able to eat breakfast today. Dr. Wilfred Post after visiting Mr. Fox this morning said that the movie magnate was resting comfortably and was in good shape. Mr. Fox's condition, he said, is "not alarming." Relatives spent several minutes at his bedside.

Surgeons who examined Mr. Fox have found no fracture of the skull or broken bones as first was feared. Shock, lacerations and bruises appear to be the extent of his injuries.

Five days after receiving Senator Glass' request, Mr. Hoover, on June 6, 1918, replied with a letter which, because it noted no exceptions to the views of Mr. Boyden, has been generally accepted as indicative of Mr. Hoover's approval of the finding, read as follows:

"Hon. Carter Glass: House of Rep-reimbursement for advances he asserted had been made from his funds in behalf of the institution.

The records of Blackstone college for the years between 1913 and 1914, as well as the personal files of Bishop Cannon for the same period, are understood to have been destroyed by fire, and the bishop's contention that the institution was indebted to him could not be verified. One former official of the college is frequently quoted as asserting that so far as he knew, there never was any record that the college received any benefit in cash or credit out of the flour deal.

Anticipating that the opinion of the food administration might some day become public, and to prevent Cannon from being able to say that it was based on a prejudiced or unfair statement of the facts, Senator Glass, in his request for a ruling, quoted the bishop's own explanation of the deal verbatim, and cloaked the bishop's identity under the statement to Mr. Hoover that the explanation was made by a "Mr. A." The name of the Blackstone Female Institute, now known as the Blackstone College for Girls, was similarly concealed.

Deal Officially Condemned.
Five days after receiving Senator Glass' request, Mr. Hoover, on June 6, 1918, replied with a letter which, because it noted no exceptions to the views of Mr. Boyden, has been generally accepted as indicative of Mr. Hoover's approval of the finding, read as follows:

"Hon. Carter Glass: House of Rep-

representative, Washington.—Dear Sir: I referred your letter of June 1, 1918, to Mr. R. W. Boyden, for an expression of his opinion on the subject, and attach hereto the interoffice memorandum, which he has submitted to me. "Faithfully yours, Herbert Hoover."

The opinion of Mr. Boyden, who, it is pointed out, had no way of knowing the identity of the individual whose transaction he was judging, and was not supplied with the dates of the deal, read:

"Mr. Herbert Hoover:
"The person mentioned in the letter may possibly be liable under the act for doing business without a license; but, as there seems to have been only one transaction, and as he apparently did not buy for the purpose of selling again, this line would not be promising."

"The man is clearly a hoarder under the terms of Sections 6 and 7 of the food act, because he held flour in a quantity in excess of his reasonable requirements for use or consumption by himself and dependents for a reasonable time." Even if we assume that he really bought the flour for the benefit of the college, he is still a hoarder, for he held enough for three years' supply for the college.

"The legal situation, therefore, is clear. Representative Glass is also interested in the moral situation. It seems clear that no individual, even when he acts for unselfish reasons, has the right to disobey a provision of so great public importance as this hoarding provision of the food act. He is, by so doing, depriving some portion of the community of its fair share of a scarce food product. The better educated man is, the more clearly he ought to see this moral principle. Something might be said in behalf of an attempt to protect a hospital or a public institution like a poor house or insane asylum, but I am unable to persuade myself that a college has any special claim for consideration."

"I am not quite clear from the letter whether the college mentioned is a real college or a private institution run for profit. If the latter, and if the man is interested in the profits, his act is all the more unjustifiable."

"R. W. BOYDEN,
"Division of Enforcement."
Subsequent investigation by the department of justice resulted, it is reported in Washington, in the finding that because the purchase was made just before the food law became effective, that law, which provided a penalty of two years in jail and a $5,000 fine for hoarders, could not be invoked.

How much the bishop paid for the flour, how much if anything in profits he cleared and the exact dates of the transaction could not be learned. Some of the parties involved in the case of friendship for the bishop, while the latter's political opponents, including Senator Glass, declined to discuss any phase of the affair or release documents bearing on it for fear of furnishing Cannon with a new opportunity to claim martyrdom.

It is reliably reported here, however, that in order to make the purchase, Cannon borrowed a substantial sum of money from the American National Bank and Trust company, a local institution, which accepted the storage warehouse receipts for the flour as collateral for the loan. The flour, according to the same authorities, was purchased through the Richmond brokerage firm of E. W. Gatch & Son, and E. A. Saunders Sons company, and was stored, until resold, in the warehouse of George Newsoms.

Papers Carefully Hidden.

From time to time during the last ten years, amazed or indignant alumni of Blackstone college have attempted to verify rumors which have persistently linked Cannon with some sort of a flour deal during the war and numerous searches of the food administration files in Washington, undertaken at their behest, failed to disclose the Boyden-Hoover-Glass correspondence.

Cannon, however, has known for years of the existence of the Boyden opinion and has been aware that the original of the ruling, together with Mr. Hoover's letter of transmission, is in the hands of Senator Glass.

During the 1918 presidential campaign the bishop is known to have made frantic but unsuccessful efforts to secure the correspondence and even appealed, it is known, to the senator, who is his political arch-enemy.

RAILWAYS GIVEN NEW WARNING IN SMOKE FIGHT

Representatives of 27 railroads against whom 275 charges of violating the city's smoke ordinance were recorded in the last two weeks, were warned by Frank A. Chambers, chief smoke inspector, that drastic steps would be taken against them if their engines continue to belch smoke and soot. The warning was delivered at the meeting of the railroad smoke abatement board, of which Mr. Chambers is chairman.

"Apparently the railroad employees believe our inspectors are on the job only during the day," said Mr. Chambers. "I want to make it clear that our men are on the job constantly, and we shall not permit any faulty on the part of engineers or firemen at any time."

With an additional force authorized by the council recently, Chambers has been able to patrol the railroad yards at night and early in the morning.

U. S. AS WORLD MASTER FEAR OF FRENCH LEADERS

Federation of Europe Plan Backed.

BY ROBERT SAGE.
(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)
PARIS, July 18.—Formation of Foreign Minister Aristide Briand's proposed United States of Europe in order to establish a tariff wall similar to that America is considering to counterbalance American financial dominance received hearty backing today in the chamber of deputies, where it was advocated by no less than five speakers.

According to Vincent Auriol, Socialist, and one of the bitterest enemies to both ratification of the U. S. and British debt accords and the Young reparations plan, European debtors would pay the United States $300,000, 000 annually under the Young plan, while the European deficit in trade balance is $2,500,000,000 a year, out of which $500,000,000 goes to America.
He asserted that only through social peace and a union of debtor states could Europe face the situation.

Would Be Unable to Pay.
In this he was backed by Louis Loucheur, minister of labor and former minister of finance, who declared that if present conditions persisted the debtors would soon find it was impossible to make payments to the United States.

"A continuation of the American European economic relationship means that the equilibrium would be smashed in a few years and America would be master of the world, while Europe would be financially ruined," stated
M. Loucheur, who is incidentally one of the richest men in France.

"We only ask to reach an understanding with the Americans," declared Julien Durand, radical Socialist who was the first to advocate the United States of Europe today. "But," he added significantly, "it is time we made them understand that we are not dismayed."

Urges Withdrawal of Troops.
M. Grumbach, Alsatian deputy, was another supporter of the European union which, according to him, should be started through patching up difficulties with Germany. He declared the only way to peace is the immediate withdrawal of French troops from the Rhineland where they are causing enmity and antagonizing Germany without helping France. After this he hinted that it would be easier to form an alliance with the Germans.

Will O. K. Debt Before August.
PARIS, July 18.—(AP)—Debate on the Aldrich-Borah debt settlement ratification occupied both morning and afternoon sessions of the French chamber while a night session was decided

CHURCH TO JUDGE CANNON, SAYS M. E. EDITOR

Asheville, N. C., July 18.—[Special.]
—Bishop James Cannon, Jr., is subject to judicial procedure just as every other Methodist minister, and in due time the facts concerning his trading in stock will be thoroughly investigated," the North Carolina Christian Advocate, chief organ of the Methodist Episcopal church, South, in this state, said today.

It published an editorial commenting on a communication from the bishop, in which he said he will ask a full investigation of charges brought against him about margin trading in stocks, but that the investigation will not be made until completion of court proceedings against the bankrupt New York firm through which the bishop did his trading.

"A bishop is subject to the judicial machinery of the general conference, just as a member of the annual conference is subject to his conference," the editorial continues. "These conferences pass upon a minister's conduct rather than leave so important a matter to a hostile or friendly press.
The newspapers cannot try a man in this country. We must wait on the courts. That applies to Methodist preachers as well as to American citizens."

Bishop Cannon is here at this time attending the annual conference on religion and education of the Methodist Episcopal church, South, which is in progress at Lake Junaluska.

SEIZE $65,000 IN GRAIN ALCOHOL ON RAILROAD CAR

3 Held After Crash with Agents' Auto.

Eighty-four drums of pure grain alcohol, valued at approximately $65,000, were seized by special prohibition agents under Alexander G. Jamieson yesterday in a freight car in the Illinois Central railroad yards at 91st street and Cottage Grove avenue. The shipment was consigned to "Dugan Brothers, Inc.," 26th street and Archer avenue, and was sent from Newark, N. J. It is one of the largest alcohol seizures made here.

Three men were under arrest last night charged with driving while intoxicated after their car crashed into Jamieson's machine as the agents were parked near the loading tracks at Archer avenue waiting for a train to switch the expected car to a siding.

Deny Knowledge of Alcohol.
Those held are Leo Rak, 24 years old, 8400 South Marshfield avenue;
John Drobnyk, 19 years old, 3758 South
Hermilage avenue, and George Kan-kowsky, 24 years old, 5721 South Hermitage avenue. The three denied knowledge of the alcohol but Jamieson said he believed they were members of a gang of six men, three of whom escaped, who were also waiting for the train. One of those who escaped had a machine gun, the agents said.

After the automobile accident, Jamieson acting on information that the car was there, drove to 91st street and found the alcohol car. Its contents were taken to the government warehouse.

Find Still in Dog Hospital.
Accompanied by excited mews and frustrated barks, police yesterday dashed into the dog and cat hospital operated by Dr. George A. McKenzie, a veterinary, at 2114 South Halsted street, and found a small two gallon still in operation. Nearby were twelve gallons of alcohol and two fifteen gallon casks of mash. McKenzie admitted ownership of the paraphernalia but said he made liquor for his own use.

The police then went to a barn in the rear of the hospital and there found forty gallons of alcohol and thirty-seven bottles of beer in a bath
tub. The veterinary denied knowledge of this batch and said he had rented the barn to a man named Fred Capriano whom he agreed to call on the telephone. He made the call but the man failed to show up and after waiting for a time the police took Mc-Kenzie to the Federal building where United States Commissioner Edwin H.
Walker held him in $1,500 bonds pending a hearing Wednesday.

Trial of five men named for the robbery nearly two years ago of the Olson and Ebnan jewelry company store, 4230 South Halsted street, was started yesterday in Judge Harry B.
Miller's Criminal court. Leroy Cox, manager of the store, will tell the jury that he was threatened with revolvers by the bandits, who escaped with $27,000 worth of jewelry on Nov. 27, 1928. The men named in the indictment are John Tabor, William Norton, Meyer Gordon, Max Herman, and John Morgan.

LIQUOR RAID ON NUNNERY MAY COST SIX JOBS

Police Blame False Tip
by Constable.

Los Angeles, Cal., July 18.—(Special.)—A "tip" passed by a constable to the vice squad of the district attorney's office which resulted in a liquor raid on July 13 of a Roman Catholic convent in Belvedere, a suburb, today brought two investigations and attempts to institute two more.

The raiding squad, led by Sgt. O. L. Childers, broke down a door when nuns refused to admit the officers, but no liquor was found. News of the incident became known yesterday.

Childers, who did not carry a warrant for the search, blamed the error on Harry Tucker, a Belvedere constable. Tucker said he had received a tip that a still and liquor were in the vicinity of the convent. W. T. Overholt, chief of the Belvedere constabulary, started an inquiry into the source of Tucker's information.

6 Raiders Face Dismissal.
Meanwhile District Attorney Burton Fitts said he had begun an investigation of the raid and was considering the dismissal of six members of his vice squad participating in it. Their names were kept secret.

Bishop J. J. Cantwell of the Catholic diocese of Los Angeles and San Diego, although exonerating Fitts' office of any blame, sent a formal protest to Senator Hiram Johnson.

Tedore Dockweiler, wealthy Chicago layman, has demanded a grand jury investigation.

Explanations of the raid by Tucker and Childers differ. Tucker declared some unidentified physician informed him Mexicans were operating a still and he telephoned the vice squad, giving them a street but no number. The constable said he made no direct mention of a convent and was unable to explain how the vice squad happened to suspect it. He did not explain why he disregarded the usual routine and notified the vice squad rather than his own chief.

Raid Leader's Version.
Childers' men insisted Tucker gave them an exact address. They said the convent was approached about 4 a. m. but that they had no knowledge that they were attempting to raid church property and, unable to understand the protests of the nuns, spoken in Spanish, they broke down the door, but apologized and paid for the damage out of their own pockets when they discovered their error.

Not until a letter from a Catholic clergyman here to a friend in Wichita-Kan., telling of the raid came into the possession of a newspaper, did the affair come to the district attorney's attention.

VOLUNTEER DRY SPIES WITH GUNS FORBIDDEN BY NEW U. S. ORDER

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)
Washington, D. C., July 18.—(Special.)—James M. Doreau, prohibition commissioner, announced today that he has sent out instructions to all administrators forbidding the employment of armed volunteers as dry raiders.

The order followed his disclosure yesterday that such a step was taken in a few days. Copies of the order, which warns all federal agents against permitting volunteer enforcers to accompany them on raids, will not be made public for some days.

Hiring of special deputies, except under extreme circumstances, is prohibited, Dr. Doreau said.

The new instructions are the outgrowth of the recent epidemic of prohibition murders which has added eight names to the prohibition death toll in the last six weeks. Four of the killings were by mixed federal and civilian raiding parties.

Dr. Doreau said the question of disciplining W. H. Thomson, the veteran dry agent who led the raiding party of four to the home of James Harris of Tecumseh, Okla., on the Fourth of July, will be taken up at a later date. Jeff Harris, a volunteer raider, now under arrest for murder, shot and killed James Harris and his brother-in-law, Oscar Lowry, during the Tecumseh raid.

Commissioner Doreau is expected to name the firms which will be permitted to manufacture medicinal whiskey within the next two or three days.

Plans for issuing permits virtually have been completed.

PRINCE OF WALES TOPS CEREMONY OFF WITH BEER

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)
LONDON, July 18.—One advantage of being a public man in England is that you can take a drink when you like without having to justify it.

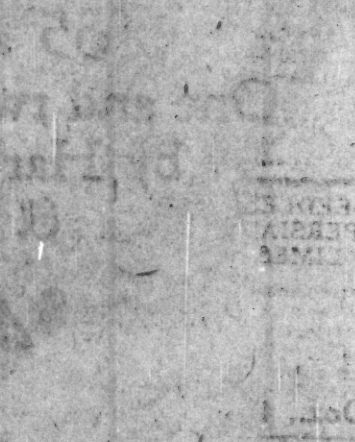

This reflection was caused by the action of the prince of Wales, who today performed the ceremony opening the new building of the London School of Hygiene and Tropical Medicine, which was largely built by an endowment from the Rockefeller foundation.

At the end of the ceremony he attended lunch with two hundred men who had worked on the building, and drank their health in a schooner of foaming beer.

BORAH NETTLED BY WICKERSHAM VOLSTEAD PLAN

Joins the Dry Chorus of Indignation.

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)
Washington, D. C., July 18.—(Special.)—Indignation among congressional dry leaders mounted higher today after each repudiating and discussing the Volstead modification proposal made by George W. Wickersham, chairman of the Hoover law enforcement commission, in a letter to Gov. Franklin D. Roosevelt of New York.

Senator Borah (Rep., Idaho), one of the staunchest drys in the senate and author of the prohibition plank in the 1928 Republican platform, interpreted the Wickersham proposal for a division of enforcement responsibility between the states and the federal government as an open admission that Volsteadism is unenforceable.

Surprised and Pained.
"In his letter to Gov. Roosevelt," said the senator, "Mr. Wickersham has succeeded in making plain his belief that the dry law cannot be enforced."

While he declined to be quoted further on the subject, the Idaho senator made no secret of his surprise and disappointment. He made it plain that he agreed with Senator T. H. Caraway (Dem., Ark.) that Mr. Wickersham's usefulness as head of the law enforcement commission is ended.

The senator admitted that he, like other dry leaders, has received a dozen or more letters and telegrams from widely scattered sections of the country, assailing Mr. Wickersham's proposal as a pre-judgment of the problem his commission was supposed to study.

Watson Defends Scheme.
Senator Watson (Rep., Ind.), an administration spokesman, defended Mr. Wickersham.

"Chairman Wickersham's statement," said Senator Watson, "was an effort to enlist the support of the states in doing their full constitutional duty. The eighteenth amendment left the states concurrent power with the federal government to enforce its provisions. Some of the states have not exercised that power."

Meanwhile, Mr. Wickersham, at the commission's headquarters, continued to refuse to see newspaper men.

JUDGE DECLINES TO SENTENCE WOMAN ON 4 OZ. OF EVIDENCE

South Bend, Ind., July 18.—(Special.)—United States District Judge Thomas W. Slick today refused to send Lizzie Dean, well known Michigan City police character, to jail merely because she had been found in possession of one-fourth of a pint of liquor.

The woman has been in state and federal courts often in the last two years. She was haled before Judge Slick on a motion to show cause why she should not be held in contempt of court and sent to jail for violating a court order under which her place in Michigan City was padlocked for a previous liquor offense.

Michigan City police testified that they had raided the place recently and found the quarter pint of whiskey. The Dean woman stated that she was using it for medicinal purposes.

Judge Slick, in overruling the government's motion, asserted that if the Dean woman were actually selling liquor in violation of the law it should be possible for the government to procure better evidence of it.

Well Recognized Industry.
"Organizing such minorities has come to be a well recognized industry at Washington. They are oftentimes led by persons of great ability, who display much skill in bringing their influences to bear on the congress."

They have ways of securing newspaper publicity, deluging senators and representatives with petitions and overwhelming them with imprecations that are often decisive in securing the passage of bills.

"While much of this legislation is not entirely bad, almost all of it is excessively expensive. If it were not for the rules of the house and the veto power of the President, within two years these activities would double the cost of the government."

Mr. Coolidge suggests a more effective party loyalty as a means of combating the importunities of the organized minorities. He argues that the President should not be left alone to bear party responsibility while members of congress, influenced by too much praise and too much abuse, drop party lines in critical times to the ultimate disparagement of the political party as an instrument of government.

Although Presidents are being driven toward the exercise of dictatorial powers, there is more danger of arbitrary action in congress where responsibility is divided, he adds, concluding with the statement:

"It has therefore become increasingly imperative that the President should resist any encroachment upon his constitutional powers."

COOLIDGE FIRES UPON MINORITIES LED BY LOBBYISTS

Says They'd Double Cost of Government.

New York, July 18.—(Special.)—Organized minorities led by skillful lobbyists are expensive forces behind the government, according to Calvin Coolidge. Unchecked they would double the cost of government in two years, the former President writes in the August American magazine. He says they also have given a too meek congress a reputation for inefficiency while the President has been gaining in popular respect by a more fearless attitude.

"It is because in their hours of timidity the congress becomes subservient to the importunities of organized minorities that the President comes more and more to stand as the champion of the rights of the whole country," Mr. Coolidge declares.

Well Recognized Industry.
"Organizing such minorities has come to be a well recognized industry at Washington. They are oftentimes led by persons of great ability, who display much skill in bringing their influences to bear on the congress."

They have ways of securing newspaper publicity, deluging senators and representatives with petitions and overwhelming them with imprecations that are often decisive in securing the passage of bills.

U. S. WARS ON WOMEN AS BOOTLEGGERS IN ARKANSAS; 14 CAUGHT

Texarkana, Ark., July 18.—(Special.)—Our war on women bootleggers in Arkansas has just started," S. M. Gurley, deputy prohibition administrator for the western district of the state, declared here today. The declaration came after 14 women caught in the first day's raiding had been arraigned in federal court and allowed bond.

"Seventy-five per cent of bootlegging in the state is being carried on by women," the federal agent declared in court. "The days of southern chivalry are over so far as women violators of the prohibition law are concerned. We have been carrying on undercover work in Southern Arkansas for six months, and before we are through, hundreds of women are going to find themselves facing a federal judge."

Raiders were started in Texarkana, Ark., and Miller county late yesterday. Seven of the women arrested are white, and seven Negroes. All were charged with possession and sale of liquor. Six men also were arrested.

Two years these activities would double the cost of the government."

Mr. Coolidge suggests a more effective party loyalty as a means of combating the importunities of the organized minorities. He argues that the President should not be left alone to bear party responsibility while members of congress, influenced by too much praise and too much abuse, drop party lines in critical times to the ultimate disparagement of the political party as an instrument of government.

LYLE COLLEAGUES REFUSE TO TAKE UP HIS QUARREL

Question Appointment of Counsel for Judge.

Counsel was appointed yesterday to advise Judge John H. Lyle at his next appearance before Judge Frank Comerford of the Criminal court in the McCarthy contempt case, but Lyle's fellow judges of the Municipal court did not give official sanction to the appointment.

Acting Chief Justice Frank M. Padden requested Attorney William Tracy Alden, member of the firm of Alden, Latham & Young, a former president of the Chicago Bar association and a well known practitioner of corporation law, to act as amicus curiae in Judge Lyle's behalf. Judge Padden explained this was done as a matter of principle, and not as any aid to Judge Lyle in particular.

To Attend Tuesday Hearing. Mr. Alden was asked to present law and argument on the right of a superior judge, such as Judge Comerford, to free by habeas corpus any one sentenced by the Municipal court. In that capacity the attorney will be present next Tuesday when Judge Comerford opens the hearing on the plea of Judge Lyle. William L. McCarthy, acting chief of detectives, that Judge Lyle was sentenced to 30 days in jail for contempt of court. McCarthy was sentenced when he left Lyle's courtroom during a hearing on a subordinate's arrest of several boy hallboys.

A meeting of Municipal judges was called for yesterday afternoon and Judge Padden said the subject of engaging Attorney Alden would be discussed. A number of judges at the meeting made known their opposition to the Municipal courts, as body, taking part in Judge Lyle's controversy. Several were outspoken in their objections to the employment of Attorney Alden.

Heller Asks Explanation. There were but fourteen judges present and they discussed the new habeas law, some questioning its constitutionality. Judge Samuel Heller then requested an explanation of the Alden appointment. Judge Padden said that inasmuch as a witness in the McCarthy case had been sentenced to jail for contempt of court, McCarthy was sentenced when he left Lyle's courtroom during a hearing on a subordinate's arrest of several boy hallboys.

Judge Francis Borrelli voiced his objection and another judge said the appointment did not reflect the consensus of the judges. But Judge Padden did not yield and the appointment was not debated. Judge Lyle had asked Judge Comerford on Wednesday to continue the McCarthy habeas corpus case until the Municipal court could be represented by counsel. Judge Comerford assented after saying he believed the lawyers in the case, Attorneys W. W. Smith and Milton D. Smith, representing McCarthy, and Q. J. Chitt and J. Kent Green, assistant state's attorneys, knew more Criminal court law than any "downtown lawyer."

Byrne Vetoes Police Quit. Ald. Thomas F. Byrne (15th), chairman of the council committee on police and municipal institutions, said no action would be taken on Judge Lyle's request for an investigation of the police department to determine if brutality was practiced. Ald. Byrne said he was satisfied the police are not brutal to prisoners and that the police department, as a whole, deserves the appreciation of the public.

TWO DIE IN AUTO ACCIDENTS NEAR MICHIGAN CITY

Two automobile accidents near Michigan City, Ind., yesterday resulted in the death of an Evanston woman, serious injury to her husband, and the death of a Chicago man. Two fatalities in Cook county brought the 1920 motor toll to 450.

Mrs. Catherine Booth, 48 years old, 817 Grove avenue, Evanston, was killed and her husband, James W. Booth, 57 years old, critically injured, when their automobile ran off the Duane highway eight miles west of Michigan City. Booth, who was driving, lost control of his car when he turned out to pass another machine. George M. Schollenberger, 601 Daming place, was killed when he drove his car down the left side of the Duane highway and crashed into a truck. A bottle of moonshine was found beside him. Police believe that he fell asleep after emptying the bottle.

The Cook county victims are Victor Marchante, 12 years old, 1107 North 25th avenue, Melrose Park. Fatally injured when he fell under the wheels of a truck on which he tried to hitch a ride. Dean Donnelly, 22 years old, 528 Wall street, Toledo, O. Died of injuries received on Monday, when the automobile in which he was riding fell over a thirty foot embankment at Milwaukee avenue and Glen View road.

MRS. HOOVER'S CAT VISITS DENTIST AND LOSES ACHING TEETH

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.] Washington, D. C., July 10.—Mrs. Hoover's pet, a cat with long, tawny fur and bushy tail had a toothache. So two of its teeth were extracted successfully today. He now is comfortable and takes his meals with ease and zest. He was sent to Mrs. Hoover shortly after she went to the White House. The servants below stairs always have his interest in mind as to fish and such cat admired delicacies. The President often brings him a present after a fishing trip. Cat dentistry is a lucrative profession in Washington, where there is a coterie of highly born, pedigreed cats who suffer with toothache.

Fraud Bill Half Billion Annually, Johnson Says

"Organized fraud is costing the American business man a half billion dollars annually and the business man is by lack of business foresight, largely responsible for this appalling loss," United States Attorney Johnson told the Kiwanis club of Chicago yesterday. The sole purpose of crime, he said, is to get "easy money" and he warned against public complacency in the face of organized crime which he said is now working with intelligence.

BRUTAL SLAYER OF GIRL, 4, SAVED FROM ANGRY MOB

Strangles Child, Throws Body Into River.

BY ROBERT SAGE. [Chicago Tribune Press Service.] PARIS, July 10.—The most horrible crime Paris has known in recent years came to light this morning when it was learned that John Sydney Harle, 41, an English telegrapher, had violated and strangled Jeannine Bigorne, 4 year old French girl, and had thrown the dismembered body into the Seine. The Englishman narrowly escaped being lynched by a furious mob of working men and housewives who assembled at the tenement where Harle and the Bigorne family lived. Only the protection of a large squad of police saved his life, but he was badly beaten before the officers succeeded in getting him back to the patrol wagon. Disappears from Home. When the parents of Jeannine—both of whom work in factories—returned home Tuesday night the child was missing. The mother called and thought she heard a faint reply, "mama, mama," but was unable to locate her daughter. This morning laborers found a satchel containing the mangled body of the child in the Seine. Confesses Luring Child. Harle confessed that he had lured a 4 year old daughter of his own.

the girl to his room with candy Tuesday night. "When she was there I completely lost my head," he sobbed. "Then I heard her mother calling and Jeannine started to reply, so I seized her throat to silence her. When I took my hand away I saw she was dead." The telegrapher is married and has

BANKERS REBUKE COUNCILMEN FOR ATTACK ON LOAN

City Is Treated Fairly, Traylor Declares.

Melvin A. Traylor, president of the First National bank, told the city council subcommittee investigating the "bankers' trust" yesterday that the financially embarrassed governmental agencies of Cook county have been treated with exceptional fairness by the Chicago bankers. He denied that the bankers have taken advantage of the prevailing tax warrant crisis.

"It is no fault of the bankers because the city, the school board, and other agencies are in straits," he declared. "On the contrary we have done everything possible to aid them by extending credit."

Four Bankers at Meeting. Mr. Traylor was one of four bankers invited before the subcommittee which was ordered by the council to investigate the banking situation as it pertains to the city. In discussing the terms of the school board's $40,000,000 tax warrant sale to Halsey, Stuart & Co., the council members had described the bankers as "gougers," "robbers," and "Jesse Jameses."

Others who appeared before the subcommittee yesterday were F. B. Wain, vice president of the First National bank; James G. Alexander, representing the Central Trust company; and W. L. Sleep, vice president of Halsey, Stuart & Co.

"In my opinion," said Mr. Traylor, "the terms of the school warrant contract are not only fair, but are liberal. The transaction is a fortunate one for the schools, and the council, by its protest, has only muddled the waters and jeopardized the sale of warrants in the future."

Recalls $50,000,000 Loan. Mr. Traylor recalled that last April a syndicate headed by his own bank, at the city's request, set up an agency to dispose of $50,000,000 worth of city and school warrants. Although money is scarce, he said, the syndicate took the warrants, distributing some of them in New York. Nearly $10,000,000 worth of these warrants still were on hand when the school board tried to sell its new lot, and he said, his own syndicate readily gave up its option to allow Halsey, Stuart & Co. to take them.

"Tax warrants do not make an attractive security because they do not bear a redemption date," Mr. Traylor continued. "They have an exceedingly restricted market and the banks are reluctant to take them. In my opinion not another warrant can be sold during 1921."

Discount Center Sale Plan. Each of the bankers discounted the proposal of Ald. Jacob Arvey (14th) and other members of the subcommittee to sell tax warrants over the counter.

"I would like very much to see the city sell its tax warrants itself," said Mr. Sleep. "In fact, I will permit you to try it with some of our school warrants. I will give you a part of them in $1,000 to $5,000 denominations and you may put them on sale anywhere you please."

Mr. Alexander said that Halsey, Stuart & Co. was doing "a big favor to the city" when it offered to buy the school warrants.

Aldermen Have Little to Say. Except for an occasional question the aldermen had little to say during the hearing. At its conclusion, however, they still were determined to try out the counter sales plan and decided to attempt to form some kind of an agency in the city controller's office to market future warrants. The aldermen told the bankers they would call them in again if their assistance was needed.

Members of the subcommittee are Ald. Joseph B. McDonough (13th), chairman; Ald. Arvey, Ald. Oscar F. Nielsen (14th), Ald. James B. Bowler (15th), and Ald. E. J. Kalndi (24th). Chairman McDonough and Ald. Kalndi were absent from the meeting yesterday. Ald. Arvey presided as acting chairman.

Mystery Woman of 65 Dies of Heart Disease

The body of a well-dressed woman about 65 years old, who was found wandering about Lincoln park on Monday and died at the Psychopathic hospital early yesterday, lay unclaimed in the county morgue last night. Before her death the woman said she believed her name to be Celeste Gargetta and that she came from New York, but there was nothing in her two valises, found at the Union station, to verify her statements or to give a clue to any other identity. Her death was attributed to heart disease.

YANKEE FLYERS LAUDED BY TWO NATIONS IN PARIS

May Return to U. S. in Hop from Spain.

PARIS, July 18.—After a busy day here, Roger Q. Williams and Capt. Lewis A. Yancey, who successfully piloted the airplane Pathfinder to the Spanish coast and then flew to Rome a few hours later, are sailing with their plane aboard the liner Republic tomorrow as guests of the United States lines.

Despite their fatigue, the flyers were up early this morning. They hurried to the American embassy, where they were received by Norman D. Armour, Chargé d'Affaires, who told them how proud America was of their achievement. Then they called on Laurent Eynac, French minister of air, who congratulated the airmen on their splendid flight. After a luncheon as guests of honor of the Cercle Inter Allié they laid a wreath on the tomb of the unknown soldier while huge crowds looked on.

Meet French Ocean Flyers. At this ceremony they were accompanied by Sidney B. Veit, president of the United States National Aeronautic association, René Lefèvre and Armand Lott, the latter two of whom were members of the crew which piloted the Yellow Bird from Old Orchard, Me. to Santander, Spain. This evening they were guests of Mrs. George Washington Kavanaugh at a dinner given in the fashionable Chateau Madrid.

The flyers will take off early tomorrow morning in the Pathfinder to Lasey field, near Cherbourg, where the plane will be dismantled for shipment aboard the Republic.

Mystery Flyer to Return. REIKJAVIK, Iceland, July 18.—(AP)—Wolfgang von Grunau, director of a German flying school, who flew here yesterday from Sylt, an island off the west coast of Germany, said excellent weather held throughout the flight. The first hop, from Sylt to the Faroe Islands, required eight hours. The plane was refueled and continued to Iceland in 8 1/2 hours. In England the venture was first considered a "mystery flight." Herr von Grunau said the plane will remain in Iceland five days making reconnaissance trips around the island, after which it will leave for home by way of Scotland.

Fog Halts Labrador Flight.

IVIGTUT, Greenland, July 18.—(AP)—The Swedish airplane Flyervegen, which is attempting to reach New York from Stockholm with several intermediate stops, returned here today at 1 P. M. Greenwich mean time (8 A. M. Chicago daylight saving time). Dense fog caused abandonment of the attempt to reach Labrador after a flight of less than two hours.

Five Hurt in British Plane.

ALDERSHOT, England, July 18.—(AP)—Five British army airmen were seriously injured today in the wreck of a giant royal air force Virginia bomber between Altam and Basingstoke. The plane had flown from an air-drome near Winchester after night operation, and the pilot was making a forced landing in a thick fog. The plane struck a bank and somersaulted into a field.

Rides Motorcycle 133 Miles in 114 Minutes to Save Boy

Somerville, N. J., July 18.—(Special.)—Racing 133 miles through the night in 114 minutes on a motorcycle, Corporal Russell Hurdon of the New Jersey state troopers carried serum to Somerville hospital early today in time to save the life of Paul J. Herman, 10, son of a Pluckemin road truck farmer, bitten by a copperhead snake late yesterday in the barn on his father's farm.

CANADIAN FLYERS, PLANES, FEARED FOR IN HURRICANE

TORONTO, Ont., July 17.—(Special.)

—Fears are entertained here tonight for the safety of a score of Ontario government and many more privately owned airplanes, which would be moored or flying in the Sioux Lookout.

Long Lac area of northern Ontario, which this evening was swept by a terrific hurricane. Two Ontario government planes were lifted clean out of their lake moorings and tumbled 30 feet up a rock shore. Telegraphic communication with the north is crippled. The big dominion government Indian treaty plane is also out somewhere in the north, but farther to the east than the storm center.

INDICTED BANKERS TO TELL ABOUT 5 MILLION FAILURE

Clarke Brothers Face 6
New True Bills.

New York, July 17.—(Special.)—While six new indictments piled up against the three Clarke brothers and John F. Booker, partners in the banking firm of Clarke Brothers, which failed for nearly $5,000,000, the firm of the Clarks predicted that their lips will be unsealed on Monday.

Lawrence S. Fowler of the law firm of Battle, Miller, Levy and Vantine asked before John L. Loytle to preside over the hearing on the bankruptcy of the firm until George Gordon Battle returned from the south. Then, he said, he expected that James H. Battle, brother of George, would answer all questions that William St. John Toner, attorney for the Irving Trust company, received, as to what to put to them.

Fended Off Questions.

At a prior session, the firm of the Clarks had fended off every question, pleading the constitutional right of refusal to reply to questions which might incriminate them.

The referee postponed examination of the Clarks to 2 p. m. Monday afternoon, but set a session for questioning other witnesses tomorrow morning. The fourth partner in Clarke Brothers, already has talked freely to state and federal investigators.

The new indictments which will be made necessary for the four partners to put up new bonds in addition to those under which they are already pending trial of federal charges, were returned by the county grand jury.

The indictments charge those named with receipts of deposits while the firm of Clarke Brothers was insolvent. Five additional indictments were voted by the grand jury but had not been returned by the clerk of the district attorney's office before the jury adjourned. They are to be returned Monday.

Acting District Attorney Ferdinand Peters said he would ask that each of the Clarke brothers be held in $5,000 bail, and that John F. Booker, the fourth partner, be released in $5,000 bail.

As the indictments were being returned by the county grand jury, William J. Hickey, the California of federal riches to whom the Clarke brothers looked desperately for help in the last moments of the waterlogged bank, was admitting to United States Commissioner Garrett W. Cotter that he had borrowed during this period of or eleven years $25,000 from the Clarke brothers on his personal notes for $1,000 or less, without collateral, and that he had been at no time called upon to pay any of them.

Swain Amazing Testimony.

Amazing testimony was given before Commissioner Cotter by John W. Cutler, who was secretary of the Private Bankers' Association of the State of New York from its organization in 1911 until he retired three or four years ago to his home in Atlantic Highlands, N. J., near that of James H. Battle. Cutler reluctantly admitted he had borrowed during this period of or eleven years $25,000 from the Clarke brothers on his personal notes for $1,000 or less, without collateral, and that he had been at no time called upon to pay any of them.

Mr. Tuttle demanded of Cutler if he had been paid a doctor's bill of $45. After deducting of the doctor's high priced services, he netted him $7. As none of the money was paid except the $7, he paid out of his own pocket to solve this before the grand jury, as the doctor has not all these since the grand jury killed William H. McGraw.

Pressing Hoax.

July 18.—Noting the remarks of Chicago's relative to the McCarthy controversy, to the police he congratulated the efforts to suppress hoodlums, meaning by that the arrest of the playing ball in a vacant lot, all his attention to the absence of suppression when the made whoops at the center in the bloody twentieth, who sent to the late Duke of the police, who makes up the police, and last but not least, the killing William H. McGraw.

well of all this is that a hood never be suppressed if he is pay enough to avoid suppression, the six boys in the probably did not have much sense between them, and the more judges like Loytle, who politicians and have paid to call their bluff.

ALEXANDER G. RUTHVEN.

Bay City, Mich., July 18.—(AP)—The Bay City Daily Times, in a copyrighted article today says Alexander G. Ruthven, dean of administration at the University of Michigan will be named president of the institution at the meeting Aug. 2 of the board of regents. The newspaper quotes William L. Clements, one of the regents, and a member of the committee of three named to select the new president, as saying the board will vote 6 to 3 in favor of Dean Ruthven.

Dean Ruthven would succeed Dr. Clarence Cook Little, whose resignation last January becomes effective next September. The statement attributed to Regent Clements states that the committee had given serious consideration to the selection of Dr. Albert W. Jessup, president of the University of Iowa, but decided in favor of Dr. Ruthven.

could explain why the Clarke brothers, "if they were in their right minds," would continue to make him these loans, which were made almost monthly.

"I have no explanation to offer," said the witness.

CHICAGOAN IS 1ST DROWNING VICTIM AT SOUTH HAVEN

The first drowning of the season at South Haven, Mich., a popular resort for Chicagoans, occurred yesterday afternoon. Samuel Goldstein, 1665 South Millard avenue, a teller employed at the Schiff Trust and Savings bank, 728 West Roosevelt road, was the victim. A young woman, unidentified, whose body had not been recovered last night, is said to have been drowned with him. The two were bathing near the Casino when the rough lake and strong undertow drew them under. The heavy sea prevented the U. S. coast guard crew from going out to recover the body of the girl.

CITRUS GROWERS MAY SAVE MUCH OF FLORIDA CROP

Revised Quarantine Also to Relieve Banks.

Washington, D. C., July 18.—(AP)—Secretary Hyde believes there is a possibility that the Florida citrus crop this year can be moved without exposing areas in addition to those now quarantined to the risk of infestation.

He said tonight that research work, which has been intensively prosecuted in Florida on methods of destruction of the Mediterranean fruit fly in fruit, indicates the possibility that by modification of existing practices in pre-cooling and coloring, fruit may be made safe for shipment.

Will Help Economic Situation.

Secretary Hyde emphasized that while this will involve a distinct modification of present restrictions on the movement of citrus fruit from all zones, and will avoid the general destruction of fruit in some cases, it is believed that it will aid the eradication effort by the relief it will afford to the present acute economic situation, and by making it more possible for growers to continue full cooperation.

Bank Confidence Returning.

Tampa, Fla., July 18.—(AP)—Traces of anxiety in the minds of Floridians, following upon the closing of fifteen banks in the state yesterday, apparently had disappeared tonight. Although one other small bank closed its doors today, public sentiment apparently had been bolstered by statements from state and government bank officials that plenty of money was on hand and that the depositors need have no further fear for their accounts.

Considerable encouragement was obtained, banking officials said, that while this will involve a distinct modification of present restrictions on the movement of citrus fruit from all zones, and will avoid the general destruction of fruit in some cases, it is believed that it will aid the eradication effort by the relief it will afford to the present acute economic situation, and by making it more possible for growers to continue full cooperation.

RIVERVIEW PARK DENIED WRIT TO PROTECT GAMES

Circuit Judge Friend yesterday denied a temporary injunction sought by officials of Riverview park to refrain police from interfering with concession games at the park. The petition for a permanent injunction was referred to Master in Chancery Roswell Mason.

Police recently raided the park and closed concessions for string, electric poker, dart, dab, pool and monkey race games. Assistant Corporation Counsel William V. Daly and James N. Kearns argued that the games are gambling devices.

Attorneys for the park maintained that the games are ones of skill. They declared that the games contribute to the wholesome gaiety and fun of the park, because they are designed to be laugh provoking. The petition cited ludicrous antics of patrons of the games as evidence of the contention.

The program having the greatest nerve value was the first of a series of outdoor concerts in Delaware park by the Buffalo Civic Symphony orchestra, consisting of seventy-five pieces, through WGBM, 820 to 9. The program began promisingly with Sibelius' "Finlandia," followed by Strauss' "Blue Danube," but the balance of the program veered off into ordinary summer park orchestra concert pieces.

INDICT TWO COPS ON CHARGES OF ROBBING SALOON

CRIMINAL COURT.

John Schula, robbery under the habitual criminal act, sentenced to life in the penitentiary by Judge Robert Gorman.

Ray Bohn, robbery, sentenced to 10 years in Penitentiary by Judge John P. McDevitt.

Charles Busch, robbery, sentenced to 1 year in Penitentiary by Judge John P. McDevitt.

De Rose, robbery, sentenced to 1 year in the Bridewell by Judge John P. McDevitt.

Within 10 minutes after they had been ordered held to the grand jury on robbery charges by Judge Edgar Jonas in the felony court, Policemen Daniel Allman and Joseph B. Hennessy, members of a south side police clean up squad, were named in true bills voted by the jurors.

State's Attorney Edwin J. Spiro presented the evidence to the jurors as soon as the witnesses in the case, were related to by Prosecutor Frank Mack in the felony court.

Four witnesses testified against the two policemen and Charles E. Fisher, an alleged police informer, who was implicated in the robbery of William Christian, owner of a soft drink parlor at 1008 East 93rd street. Fisher was also named in the true bill. It was charged that the policemen demanded $100 to quash a liquor complaint against the Christian and that when he balked $50 was taken from him by the policemen. Several attempts were made, it developed, to get Christian to drop the prosecution.

"You have brought disgrace on your family name," said Judge Jonas to Allman, a nephew of Capt. James Allman. "You men are not only agents of threats, but of bribery, extortion by means of subornation of perjury."

DEMAND AID OF 121 CONCERNS IN PURIFYING RIVER

Engineer Acts to Halt Pollution.

Chief Engineer Edward J. Kelly of the sanitary district yesterday made formal request upon 121 industries which dump factory and industrial waste into the Chicago river for cooperation in his campaign to suppress objectionable odors and unsanitary conditions along the river banks during the warm months.

At the same time, Walter E. Beebe, attorney for the district, headed a conference of legal and engineering experts in drafting an ordinance which would clarify the district's powers in regulating deposits of waste in the river.

Find Much Pollution.

Mr. Kelly's action followed a survey of conditions along the river last Tuesday by Horace Ramey and William Sullivan, two of the chief engineering assistants. The trip revealed, according to Engineer Ramey, an alarming degree of pollution, especially in the north branch of the river. Here are located scores of tanneries, wool pulleries and other allied industries which, the engineers declared, release thousands of tons of animal waste into the river as byproducts of manufacture. It was to these concerns and the packing houses that Mr. Kelly's letter was addressed.

"You will recall," the letter said, "that about twelve years ago the sanitary district, with the consent and cooperation of the various industries in the stockyards district, erected wet traps at the outlets of various sewers in the stockyards district, took gauge readings and samples of the effluent coming from said sewers, in order to assist the sanitary district in reducing the amount of solids which were discharged into the main channel and thence down the Des Plaines and Illinois rivers."

Text of Kelly Letter.

"As you know, the United States government has issued a permit to the sanitary district allowing it to withdraw a certain amount of water from Lake Michigan on condition that the district would carry out a program of sewage treatment which would enable the water to be discharged into the district to gradually reduce the amount of water diverted. The district now again asks your cooperation and requests that your company permit the district to take gauge readings and samples of the effluent coming from your sewers."

Attorney Beebe's conference, attended by Langdon Pearce, sanitary engineer, and district attorneys and chemists, was intended to put into the code of the district the terms of legislative act passed in 1927 which gave the district definite powers in regulating the dumping of industrial wastes into the facilities of the district. The ordinance will be submitted to the board of trustees at the next meeting on July 25.

HECKLE BRITISH OFFICIAL FOR BAN ON LEON TROTZKY

Official for Ban on Leon Trotsky

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)

LONDON, July 18.—Home Secretary J. R. Clynes was heckled this afternoon about the refusal of the government to admit Leon Trotsky, exiled soviet leader, to England, answering questions? Mr. Clynes said that Mr. Trotsky based his application on his desire to undergo medical treatment, follow scientific studies, and superintend the publication of his life in England.

Assurances were offered on Trotsky's behalf that he would not interfere with the domestic affairs of the country, take any part in public meetings, or make himself prominent in any way.

No communication on the subject was received from the soviet government. He was refused admission because mischievous persons would unquestionably try to exploit his presence in England for their own ends, and in consequence, if he became a subject for grave embarrassment, the government had no certainty of being able to get rid of him, Mr. Clynes said.

PINCHOT FINDS GIANT SEA BAT ON LONG CRUISE

On Long Cruise

(Copyright, 1929, by The New York Times.)

BALBOA, July 18.—After a month's cruise around the Galapagos islands, in the Pacific, the yacht Mary Pinchot, owned by Gifford Pinchot, former governor of Pennsylvania, in which he, Mrs. Pinchot, their son and a party of scientists are making a 15,000 mile pleasure and scientific voyage, arrived at Balboa last night.

While here, the yacht goes into drydock for inspection and necessary repairs and the scientific specimens that have already been collected will be shipped to the United States.

The expedition was successful in capturing a huge sea bat, which was one of the main objects of the cruise; also four giant land tortoises, one weighing 137 pounds. Two of the species will be sent to the National Museum at Washington along with the Pinchot sea bat. The other two go to the zoological gardens in Philadelphia.

HECKLE BRITISH OFFICIAL FOR BAN ON LEON TROTZKY

Official for Ban on Leon Trotsky

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)

LONDON, July 18.—Home Secretary J. R. Clynes was heckled this afternoon about the refusal of the government to admit Leon Trotsky, exiled soviet leader, to England, answering questions? Mr. Clynes said that Mr. Trotsky based his application on his desire to undergo medical treatment, follow scientific studies, and superintend the publication of his life in England.

Assurances were offered on Trotsky's behalf that he would not interfere with the domestic affairs of the country, take any part in public meetings, or make himself prominent in any way.

No communication on the subject was received from the soviet government. He was refused admission because mischievous persons would unquestionably try to exploit his presence in England for their own ends, and in consequence, if he became a subject for grave embarrassment, the government had no certainty of being able to get rid of him, Mr. Clynes said.

JUNE CIRCULATION GAIN

GREATER THAN COMBINED

GAIN OF ALL OTHER

CHICAGO DAILY

NEWSPAPERS

53,000 new families brought Daily Tribune June circulation to 856,892—the highest June in history. Average circulation in June, 1928, was 803,153; the same month this year it was 856,892. Move Omaha or Akron bodily to Chicago and you get a measure of the tremendous buying power added to Tribune circulation.

This increase, an incident to the steady growth of the Tribune, is greater than the combined gains of all other Chicago daily newspapers in the same period.

Sunday circulation gain was scarcely less impressive. The Sunday Tribune in June of this year reached 49,000 more families over the same month of last year.

There is no doubt in Chicago as to which is the preferred newspaper. Day by day, deeper into the life of Chicago, the influence of the Tribune permeates—to make Tribune advertising more productive. From one end of the city to the other, in all sections, among all English-reading classes, the Tribune is enlarging the sphere of its influence through able news reporting, progressive editorials and appealing features.

To get the greatest and most effective coverage in Chicago, use the Tribune. It can do the job alone.

SHOPS BUILDING ANNOUNCED FOR SHERIDAN ROAD

$200,000 Project to Get Under Way Soon.

BY AL CHASE.

Plans are now being completed and work will start within two or three weeks on a one story building at 4850 S. Sheridan road, which is claimed to represent a total investment in land and structure of $200,000. Hush & Hill are the architects. The building will contain three shops, all to be of modernistic design.

The property is 180 feet south of Alameda street and fronts fifty feet on Sheridan, with a depth of 143 feet. The proposed building will be 62x70. Title to the site was transferred by Max Walter to George W. Ray, who in turn quitclaimed it to Charles F. Gardner. A $125,000 loan, five years at 8 per cent, was negotiated by Hush & Hill. Mr. Gardner gave as part payment the fifteen one story stores at the northwest corner of Montrose and Central Park avenues.

Kenmore-Leland Building Delayed.

On June 9, 1928, a twelve story hotel and apartment building was announced for the northeast corner of Kenmore and Leland avenues, to be erected by Andrew McAnah. At that time it was stated that plans were being drawn by Architect Paul Hansen for a $1,000,000 structure, work on which was not to start for several months.

Yesterday the Byron Building corporation was formed, the incorporators of which are S. C. Witmer, B. A. McAnah and Andrew McAnah. The latter stated that the forming of the corporation has no significance in connection with the proposed $1,000,000 building. He says plans for the structure are being held in abeyance and it may not go ahead for another year.

New Bank for South Side.

The South Park Building corporation has taken title to the building at 4638 South Park way formerly occupied by the Kenwood National bank, prior to its merger with the Hyde Park National bank. The property, now vacant, is to be occupied within a month by the new South Park National bank, an institution just organized by the Jesse Binga interests, a group of colored men.

The building occupies a site 40x125. Mr. Binga is head of the Binga State bank, at 3452 South State street, and is a real estate operator, with several south side offices. The incorporators of the South Park Building corporation are William H. Scott, Enoch W. Oddrick and James C. Cottler. Attorney A. M. Burroughs was correspondent.

EX-DRAGON SUES FOR LIBEL; SINGS PRAISES OF KLAN

Lansing, Mich., July 18.—[Special.]—Requisites of a grand dragon of the Ku Klux Klan are those of "a Christian gentleman," and the inference that such a leader would entertain mercenary political motives is libelous, George E. Carr, for several years grand dragon of the Michigan order, charges in a $100,000 damage suit filed in Ingham county circuit court here today.

The action is brought against the Michigan State Digest Publishing company, Edward A. Nowack, its editor, and Mrs. Lillian Nowack, his assistant.

The suit is based on a series of articles published in the State Digest, a weekly paper devoted largely to political comment, in which it is claimed one article alleged that the support of the Klan was thrown to Gov. Fred W. Green in the 1928 campaign for a monetary consideration and Carr was charged with having "engineered the deal."

In his suit, Carr admits the political activities of the hooded order and says it is the duty of the grand dragon to inform himself on political policies and "all measures affecting the Christian people of the state." He calls the post of grand dragon "the most honored position of a semi-public nature in Michigan."

BOB STONE OF $4,000 SUITS. Three well dressed robbers traced up two clerks in a clothing store at 5731 West 23d street yesterday morning and escaped with suits valued at $4,000.

Decide Championship in Two Rounds Today.

BY HARLAND ROHM.
Rehearsal of the ancient drama of sports—the promising youngster matched against the famed veteran—will be played on two stages in the final day of the Chicago district golf association championship at Exmoor today.

D. E. [Red] Sawyer of Midlothian, several times western amateur champion, will play John Van Nortwick of the Chicago golf club, who qualified for his first major championship in the western amateur last week. In the other semi-final match Francis R. Blossom of Indian Hill, intercollegiate champion when a student at Yale about 15 years ago, plays Dick Lutz, captain elect of the University of Illinois golf team. The winners will meet in the final in the afternoon.

Most of the dynamite in the two match play rounds yesterday was packed into the morning. Five of the eight matches went to the twentieth hole or beyond, while the nineteenth, saved to represent the final at least, was eliminated along with George W. Thomas Jr. and Don Arzuff.

Two Extra Hole Matches.
Two of the matches required extra holes. Don MacMurray of Exmoor faced Blossom in the first extra hole before the Indian Hill champion won. After finishing the round all even, he halved the nineteenth in par five and on the twentieth MacMurray hooked into a trap and was out shot. Blossom won the hole and match with a par 4.

Dick Martin and Fred Lyons only won one extra hole, but their match was a battle from the start. Each won five holes, but neither ever shot more than one hole in front, and only once did one have an advantage last longer than the next hole. Each was out at 41 and all square, but both braced on the home nine, Martin having 37 and Lyons 23. Martin won the seventeenth, eighth to lose the hole and leave the square. On the extra hole Martin slammed his approach to four feet of the pin and rapped it down for a birdie and a win.

Sawyer and Armstrong were all even on the 17th tee and both found a trip with their second. Don's mullik hit the clay under the sand on his blast and he went over the green into another trap, while Sawyer got on and won the hole. They were on the last hole Armstrong's drive was trapped. Ned played a fine iron to seven feet of the pin. Armstrong's try for a 3 stopped on the lip, and Sawyer rolled his putt up close to the hole for a half and the match.

Novotny Of His Game.
Novotny, who defeated Van Nortwick in the western amateur last week, was a bit below his game, possibly due to the heat, and then again, which made golf difficult, and Van Nortwick reached the turn 1 up, despite the fact he called a penalty shot on himself for having accidentally moved his ball on the fairway. They were out in 4. Van Nortwick started back with six fours in succession. They won two holes for him and lost one. Van Nortwick won 2 up, 3 to go. They halved the next two holes.

Another close match in this first round came between Dick Mullin, western junior champion, and George W. Thomas Jr. of Bloomer. Mullin won 1 up. They were all even at the turn and came to the 17th with Mullin 2 down. Thomas played two great shots on the 17th, barely missing 2, but won the hole. Thomas also got home in 2 on the 18th. Mullin sliced his second, but chipped to 5 feet of the cup. Thomas ran his approach putt up to 5 feet from the cup, but Mullin dropped his five footer for the match.

In the fifth close match Ralph Morgan of Mid-City played steadily to down Charles Becka, Calumet youngster, 2 up.

Two Other Close Matches.
Two of the four second round matches were fairly close. Blossom defeated John Lehman of Gary, former Purdue star, 2 and 1, by winning the last two holes. Van Nortwick defeated Jack Lenfestey, Jr., of Exmoor, 1 up, after being down 2-1. Sawyer had little trouble in beating Morgan 4 and 3. Martin had a lead of 8 up on Mullin at the turn and went on to win 4 and 2. Three putt greens and traps cost Mullin shots, and he lost 18th when Martin caught a trap and three-putted but a trapped drive lost Mullin the 18th.

CLOSE MATCHES MARK PLAY IN DISTRICT GOLF

Decide Championship in Two Rounds Today.

BY HARLAND ROHM.
Rehearsal of the ancient drama of sports—the promising youngster matched against the famed veteran—will be played on two stages in the final day of the Chicago district golf association championship at Exmoor today.

D. E. [Red] Sawyer of Midlothian, several times western amateur champion, will play John Van Nortwick of the Chicago golf club, who qualified for his first major championship in the western amateur last week. In the other semi-final match Francis R. Blossom of Indian Hill, intercollegiate champion when a student at Yale about 15 years ago, plays Dick Lutz, captain elect of the University of Illinois golf team. The winners will meet in the final in the afternoon.

Most of the dynamite in the two match play rounds yesterday was packed into the morning. Five of the eight matches went to the twentieth hole or beyond, while the nineteenth, saved to represent the final at least, was eliminated along with George W. Thomas Jr. and Don Arzuff.

Two Extra Hole Matches.
Two of the matches required extra holes. Don MacMurray of Exmoor faced Blossom in the first extra hole before the Indian Hill champion won. After finishing the round all even, he halved the nineteenth in par five and on the twentieth MacMurray hooked into a trap and was out shot. Blossom won the hole and match with a par 4.

Dick Martin and Fred Lyons only won one extra hole, but their match was a battle from the start. Each won five holes, but neither ever shot more than one hole in front, and only once did one have an advantage last longer than the next hole. Each was out at 41 and all square, but both braced on the home nine, Martin having 37 and Lyons 23. Martin won the seventeenth, eighth to lose the hole and leave the square. On the extra hole Martin slammed his approach to four feet of the pin and rapped it down for a birdie and a win.

Sawyer and Armstrong were all even on the 17th tee and both found a trip with their second. Don's mullik hit the clay under the sand on his blast and he went over the green into another trap, while Sawyer got on and won the hole. They were on the last hole Armstrong's drive was trapped. Ned played a fine iron to seven feet of the pin. Armstrong's try for a 3 stopped on the lip, and Sawyer rolled his putt up close to the hole for a half and the match.

Colorful Ceremony as Pope Makes New Cardinal of an Abbot

BY DAVID DARRAH.

(Chicago Tribune Staff Service.)
Rome, July 18.—With customary colorful ceremonies in which twenty-four cardinals participated, Pope Pius this morning held a public consistory, formally investing with the red hat Cardinal Ildefonso Schuster, Benedictine abbot and newly named archbishop of Milan. The pope was attended by Cardinal Deacon Laurenti and Verdi, and by Prince Colonna, as assistant at the papal throne.

Pope Pius was borne into the hall on the sedia gestatoria surrounded by the papal court in full regalia and escorted by the Swiss guards in their multicolored uniforms. Then Cardinal Schuster, who previously had taken the oath prescribed by the constitution of the sacred college in the Sixtine chapel, was introduced to the papal presence, bowing low before the throne and receiving the red hat from the pontiff's hands. After embracing the pope, Mons. Schuster passed before each of the twenty-four cardinals, his colleagues, saluting each with a kiss.

At the end of the consistory, which was held before a crowded audience of monks, nuns, priests, heads of religious orders, tourists and pilgrims from Milan, his holiness imparted the apostolic benediction. After that the cardinal retired to the Sixtine chapel to sing the "Te Deum Laudamus" for the new member, who remained prostrate before the altar during the singing.

Immediately afterwards the pope held a secret consistory, performing the symbolic ceremony of closing and opening the mouth of the cardinal to whom was assigned the Sixtine chapel of San Martino, the same church in which the pope himself held as cardinal of Milan. Cardinal Schuster was assigned to the congregations of religious orders, rites, ceremonies, and universities. He is one of the younger members of the sacred college, and there is talk in ecclesiastical circles to-night about the likelihood of his becoming the next pope.

West Africans' Talks to Dictaphone Will Aid Chicago Science

Handicapped by the hostility of natives and imperiled by poisonous reptiles, the Frederick H. Dawson-Field Museum Ethnological expedition to West Africa is collecting valuable information in the Portuguese colony of Angola, according to reports received at the museum from W. D. Hamby, who is in charge of the expedition. The scientists are engaged in making dictaphone records of the language of the Ovimbundu tribesmen, and taking their physical measurements to be used in anthropological research.

The natives at first regarded these activities of the white men with superstitious dread, Mr. Hamby's report said. "The dictaphone is black magic to them," he declared. "However, they gradually were persuaded to talk and sing into the machine, and I hope to have the first collection of records made illustrating their conversation, folk songs, and instrumental music."

At Elende, in the province of Cuna, where the party's first camp was pitched, Mr. Hamby made an involuntary collection of poisonous reptile specimens, he said in the report.

John Blackmore Gives Recital at Central Theater

John Blackmore's piano recital at the Central theater yesterday afternoon was in a quiet mood, including a pair of Bach works, one in an arrangement by Myra Hess, the other edited by Busoni, some Medtner, some Chopin, and some brief works and children's pieces by Rachmaninoff, Wladigorsky, Debussy, and Liszt.

As the mood of the music, so was that of the pianist, who played calmly rather than brilliantly and in the manner of earnest study rather than of impetuous interpretation. His first number, Miss Hess' arrangement of the chorale, "Jesu, Joy of Man's Desiring," is a genuine contribution to the literature of the piano, and because of its greatly melodious quality as well as its brevity, it deserves the popularity that comes from many performances.

Antoinette Gives Helpful Tips About Mouth Hygiene

Mouths are so constructed that some lips when open reveal much of the gums. Others, in conversation, show no gum surface whatever. And while connoisseurs insist that no beautifully formed mouth shows the gums in conversation, if the gums are a healthy pink they cannot affect the beauty of the mouth, so far as the most of us see.

Perhaps a prejudice is borne against a widely revealing gum because it indicates inherited weakness, due, it is said, mainly to faulty diet. Even when the gums are slightly revealed, we are told that a lack of physical and mental vigor is indicated. But for us and our beauty interests, the color of the gum revealed is more prejudicial than anything else. The dark red gums sometimes seen are not considered beautiful. They are not noticeably healthy gums. When very pale, gums hint of anemia and general impoverishment. The beautiful gums are a healthy pink and so hard that they cannot be injured by dental floss.

Incidentally, do you know that dental floss has a substitute now in dental tape? The latter is recommended because it lacks the tendency of the former to cut the delicate membrane covering the gums or, another tendency, to loosen fillings. However, dental floss used correctly need have no such painful results. It does not need to be forced against the gum with such pressure as to cause pain and bleeding. It should be moved carefully back and forth between the teeth until it slides easily, after which it can be worked around in the spaces between the teeth and will clean them without injuring the gum.

Gum massage, dental authorities urge for more common practice. Massage improves the health of the gums by stimulating the blood circulation. It also toughens the gum, making it more resistant to disease. There are two good ways of massaging, according to Charles I. Stoll, D. D. S. One is by rubbing the gum with a tooth brush while the teeth are being cleaned, or rubbing the gum gently with the finger. Another way is to massage individual spots on the gum by continuously pressing and releasing the ball of the finger. One should massage the gum at night before retiring, and in the morning before eating.

Leslie Thorne Is Still Busy with Painting

One hears so frequently that this or that society girl is about to take up a career in the artistic or business world that such an announcement no longer arouses more than passing interest. For all too often the urge for the serious thing of the day turns out to be little more than a bit of decorative dabbling in one profession or another.

Occasionally, however, one learns of an aspirant toward a career who is not daunted by a routine of study and work and who, having had experience of the necessary hard work, is willing to stick. An example of such industry and thoroughness is Miss Leslie Thorne. She several years ago became interested in painting and still is entirely absorbed by that work.

Since her parents, the Charles H. Thornes, moved last year from their home in the Lake View avenue residence to their newly built house in Pasadena, she has spent most of her time in New York studying and practicing art. One of her recent jobs there was to design and paint the scenery for the Jitney players.

Shortly before the company took to the road, the stage manager became ill and Miss Thorne volunteered to fill his place. To do this she drove her own car through New England for several weeks, and helped to shift scenes, arranged the lighting schemes and attended to all the other details of a stage manager's job in each town where the company played.

Having seen the Jitney players through the season, she is now taking a month's vacation with her mother at Las Cheneaux islands. They arrived in Chicago last Saturday and spent the week-end here before departing for the islands. The Thornes' new residence in Pasadena, by the way, is said to be an admirable example of Spanish architecture, built on the hillside, and contains a large studio in which Miss Thorne works when at home.

The marriage of Miss Louise Searies, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Charles S. Searies of Chicago, to Capt. Orland S. Peabody of the U. S. army took place last Saturday at the Searies country

ENGAGED

MISS GENEVIEVE COOK.
(Mottet Photo.)

Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Cook of Wilmette announce the engagement of their daughter, Genevieve, to Francis W. Kittrell of Tyron, N. C.

The bride wears a gown of beige chiffon with a deep collar of Alençon lace, a matching picture hat and beige crepe slippers, and carried a bouquet of white canterbury bells and baby's breath. Her attendant, Miss Helen Elliott of Wyoming, was gowned in capucine chiffon and a wide brimmed hat. Charles A. Searies of Lake Forest served as best man for the groom.

The ceremony was followed by a reception, Mr. Peabody and his bride are now traveling in the east and after Sept. 1 will reside at Fort Riley, Kan. Mrs. Farwell Winston will open her Lake Forest residence next Wednesday for a nature exhibit by the pupils of Mrs. Theron Colton's classes for the benefit of Arden Shore camp. The entries, which will include butterflies, stones and shells, old birds' nests, pressed leaves and wild flowers, will be judged by Mrs. Woodbury Ober, Miss Gertrude Lamont and Miss Barbara Poole.

Nature study classes are held regularly throughout the summer at the residence of Mrs. Charles Edward Brown Jr., Mrs. Laurence Armour, Mrs. J. Andrews King, Mrs. John Coleman and Mrs. Winston. Children are admitted at the ages of 3 and 4 years. A number of books on the subject have been donated to the boys and girls at Arden Shore, many of whom have become so learned in the lore of birds and butterflies that they are to be sent to other camps to teach nature study.

The annual midsummer frolic of the summer school students of the National Kindergarten and Elementary college will be given next Wednesday at Craigie Lea, the estate of Mrs. Andrew MacLeish in Glenview. The program includes a variety of children's plays and is always attended by hundreds of youngsters from the north shore suburbs.

Mr. and Mrs. Rose J. Beatty will give a debut tea for their daughter, Miss Veronice Beatty, on Saturday, Sept. 21, at their residence in Highland Park. They will give a dance for their daughter on the evening of the same day. Miss Beatty has been a student at Miss Bennett's school.

Mrs. Edward Everett Ayer of 2 Banks street has opened The Oaks, her place at Lake Geneva, for the summer and has with her her daughter, Mrs. Frank S. Johnson of Pasadena.

The Lake Geneva Country club announces a mixed doubles round robin tennis tournament to be held tomorrow afternoon and continuing every Saturday throughout the season. Mrs. Catharine Bartholomay Osborne is chairman.

Mrs. Wallace C. Winter of Lake Forest returned yesterday from a fortnight's visit in the east. Mr. and Mrs. Chauncey B. Borland and their daughters, Harriet, Martha and Beatrice, arrived in New York last Friday from Europe and spent the week-end at the Roosevelt hotel before leaving for Edgefield, their summer place at Camden, Me.

Mrs. Charles J. Miller of 219 Lake Shore drive will leave tomorrow for New York to visit friends at the Plaza hotel. Mr. Miller will join her next week and on Friday they will sail on the Ile de France for several months of travel abroad.

SALLY AND CROWD HAVE HAPPY DAY AT RAVINIA PARK

BY SALLY JOY BROWN.

"Pictures taken! All aboard!"

With a whoop we fled into the special cars Britton I. Budd, president of the North Shore line had provided for our day at beautiful Ravinia. And the train hadn't been going a minute before the fun was going, too, with a song my guests invented in a moment:

Jingle bells, jingle bells,
O, what fun it is to ride
The Electric North Shore Way!

Then another song and another—as we shot full speed ahead through the north side and into the beautiful north shore suburbs.

We had our boxes of candy which Mrs. Snyder had kindly sent us with her best wishes, and all the while town after town, golf courses, beautiful homes were shooting by in a regular parade of loveliness. You may be sure that many of us were held spellbound at the windows. Then—"Ravina!" called the conductor, and we fled into the beautiful home of summer opera, where we were to be the guests of Louis Eckstein, president of Ravinia, for the afternoon. Almost as soon as we were seated the curtains parted and Mr. Eric DeLamarter and the Chicago Symphony orchestra commenced their wonderful program, with Mr. DeLamarter explaining everything about the selections before the orchestra played them.

Next the special numbers—headed by the nimble dancers, Micks and Harold. They brought us all to attention with their soldier, fancy dress, and other numbers. Then Frankie—and how he could make his accordion sing, and laugh, and do tricks, until we thought he was almost an orchestra in himself! Lastly, to cap the program, Charles Ullrich, the ventriloquist, came with a world of stunts that had us laughing every minute.

But the refectory and refreshments still awaited us, and after that our ride home, just as much fun as going out. So altogether, it was agreed by all my guests that our hosts, Mr. Eckstein and Mr. Budd, had given us a perfect day.

The Wise Parent Sees Non-Essentials in Their True Light

By Mrs. Gladys Huntington

A book on the care of babies by Mrs. Carolyn Conant Van Blarmon, a noted authority on the subject, can be had at The Tribune Public Service Office, 1 South Dearborn street, for 50 cents, or by mail for 60 cents. Two books by Mrs. Van Blarmon, one on "Prayers and Graces for Children" and another on "Books to Read to Children or by Them," will be sent free on receipt of a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Did you ever have times when the doing of certain routine things became obnoxious to you, and then did you ever find that after a rest from them you went back to doing them without that need of forcing yourself to them? I don't think parents of young children realize how often this occurs. The adolescent boys and girls too hard, said a mother to me the other day. "A loose rein is quite necessary, I think. Noticing these boys changing so much, it is a relief to find that they are going to be as they were when they were little. One of my boys was about 14."

"I had determined that that boy should make his bed every morning. Well, we had quite a struggle over it. I had the fixed idea that he should make the bed, but after a while he rebelled. It seemed to get on his nerves, for some reason. Then one day he simply said, 'I won't.'"

"I thought it over and decided that perhaps I was making an issue of a nonessential. So that night I said, 'Jack, I've changed my mind about asking you to make your bed. You're always doing nice things for me, and if you hate to make your bed I'm just going to make it for you.'"

"You can't imagine the effect of my change of heart. He came up to me and hugged me and the tears rolled down his cheeks and he thanked me again and again. 'It's so good to know you want me to, mother,' he said. 'If only you don't ask me to make that bed.'"

How strange is the heart of a child—even to us who know and love them! How much wisdom we need to know when to bring pressure to bear and when to relax it—when a thing is important enough to make an issue of it and when not—when a principle is involved and when we are being blindly arbitrary.

Many forces are at work in the growing up boy and girl—physical, mental, and emotional changes. Parents must take them into account. Of course we want to know where we're going as parents—we want to be firm in a general knowledge of what is for their good. But a hard and fast, adamant attitude about small things, especially, is not for this age. We'll accomplish more by being human and flexible.

Colored Students Build with Funds from Chicagoans

A total of $15,000 has been contributed by Chicago Episcopals for the erection of the Chicago building at St. Paul's school for colored people at Lawrenceville, Va., according to information given out by the Episcopal headquarters, Tower building, yesterday. The Rev. Herbert W. Prime, rector of the Church of the Holy Spirit, Lake Forest, dedicated the new building, acting for the Rt. Rev. Charles P. Anderson, bishop of Chicago. The building was erected entirely by students in the school without labor costs and is, therefore, much larger than the financial cost would indicate. It contains the school auditorium with a seating capacity of 1,500, in addition to class and exhibition rooms. The school specializes in training colored youth in practical trades and occupations.

Deep V Is Still a Smart Neck Line

BY LOLITA.

NEW YORK.—[Special Correspondence.]—If we wish to make our neck-blooming serious we have to remember a number of points. One of these is the deep point of the décolletage in the back. Such V-shaped décolletages are omnipresent and are rivaled by something quite as profound. It is the low cut U. Only in the occasional case is the deeply marked neckline renounced. That is in the case of the youthful gowns with bertha or shawl-capes.

Even these, however, are sometimes cut away to correspond with the line of the frock. Thus, in the above drape of purple chiffon we find a double bertha deflected from its ordinary course in the back. The fact that this is double reflects upon a tendency of the summer to serve in strata. Often the flounce of the evening gown occurs in several layers of tulle, chiffon or lace. Numerous evening wraps of chiffon ally themselves with the same cause. And even some of the latest beach pajamas include coats of various thicknesses.

This frock, corroborating once more the reign of the purple tones, defines an almost normal waistline in front by a square motif of shirring. From this point the corsage is draped over the hips in folds meeting at the back in further shirring. Violets are placed at the front of the bertha.

Amethysts set in gold contribute the jewelry, and the opera pumps are of matching color.

The slanting line is observed perhaps more enthusiastically than ever in the early fall models for evening and we find fountains, seams and drapings taking anything but a straight course.

Famous Comedie Francaise Bows to Call for Talkies

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.] PARIS, July 18.—Directors of the Comedie Francaise, a venerable theater of French classic drama, today decided to permit their actors to appear in the "talkies." The permission, however, was granted on two conditions—the picture must not be based on the play from Comedie Francaise's repertoire, and not more than one member of the company may appear in the same picture.

How About Hearing from Those Happily Wed, for a Change?

BY DORIS BLAKE.

We've come to the conclusion, as many others have, that what marriage needs more than anything else is more publicity about couples that aren't waiting, that aren't rushing off to lawyers after a first spat that aren't looking for loopholes for easy exit, in other words, who find in matrimony a vocation promising no small share of happiness, providing it is a state approaching and conducted with reasonable good sense. So, we threaten to carry on a small campaign of our own in which we'll present the bright side as an antidote to the current gloom. And we'll let the happy experimenters speak for themselves.

"I am 26 and have been married three years," Nona tells. "My husband and I each earn $40 a week, on which we live well, dress well, and save for the future. We furnished a three room apartment in which we both take great pride. Regularly each month we save $15, so that in approximately two more years I can leave my position and be a regular housewife and, I hope, a mother."

"My husband has attended night school for the last two years and he'll graduate as a doctor. This, of course, calls for some sacrifice. We cannot entertain often, but we do manage getting together two or three nights of the week and our entire summer, of course, is together."

"I had opportunities to marry men older than myself—men of wealth and good positions—but I loved neither of them. They were interesting. I enjoyed their company but I decided there must be more in life than wealth since one wears of material possessions, as observation shows. Some of my friends think I was foolish in my choice. I do not regret with them, for we could not ask to be happier than we are and our love grows stronger as time passes."

"I think, too, many girls expect a great deal out of life without any effort and if they fail to find happiness they have no one to blame but themselves."

Former Slaves Conserve for Barbecue and Old Songs Birmingham, Ala., July 18.—(P)—A large number of former slaves were in convention at Industrial High school on the outskirts of the city yesterday, the principal business before the organization being the singing, over and over, of plantation songs with which they lightened the tedium of their toil for the masters in ante-bellum days. They came from all states of the old south, many of them at the expense of white friends.

Not the least of the attractions to the convention was a sumptuous barbecue, prepared under their personal supervision which was spread "on the grounds" at noon.

A FRIEND IN NEED

Request for Clothing. "Can you help me secure some clothing for the R. family? Mr. R. is a chronic invalid and cannot earn enough to provide all the necessities. The children are anxious for some new clothes, so that they can enjoy vacation outings. There are seven of them—girls 12, 7, 4, and 1 year, respectively, and boys 11, 8, and 3. I will be most grateful if you can secure underwear, dresses, trousers, shirts, and shoes for them. B. L." These children of poor and needy families enjoy so few of life's luxuries it would be a pity to deprive them of these outings because they lack presentable clothing. I am sure almost every household here has growing children who will have a garment or two, now outgrown, to give them.

Leeds University Votes Degree for Dr. C. H. Mayo

LEEDS, England, July 18.—(P)—The court of Leeds university today unanimously approved the recommendation of the honorary degrees committee to confer the degree of doctor of science on Dr. Charles H. Mayo of Rochester, Minn., at the university congregation to be held next Tuesday.

Chancellor C. H. Tully said the noted American surgeon is attending a conference in Manchester and soon would be here. Prof. J. E. Jamieson, dean of the faculty of medicine, recalled that Dr. William J. Mayo similarly was honored in 1924. Manchester university conferred honorary degrees on the Mayo brothers on July 14.

Almost Late at Alter.

It was my wedding day; the family car drove up to take me to the church to meet my future mate. I naturally was all excited and thrilled and there were a million little things to be done before we got started, so I left just in time to get to the church door at the appointed hour. At last we were off. We drove through Jackson park in a save time and avoid traffic; just as we got near the old Field museum—bang went a tire—and we were miles from the church—every neck stretched to see if we could find a taxi; none was in sight. There was nothing left to do but to get out and walk to Stony Island, as no telephones were near to call a taxi. You can imagine how embarrassed I felt, a bride carrying a huge bouquet of roses along the bride path. But finally I got to the church a few minutes late, my sweetheart was waiting for me and life since then has been "one glad sweet song," so the little escapade in Jackson park, even though embarrassing at the time, was soon forgotten. ## Bright Sayings of the Children

The Tribune will pay $5 for each child's saying printed. The story told must never have been printed in any magazine or paper. It is not possible to schedule space for unsolicited contributions. Write on one side of the paper. Address bright sayings to Amy Bee, The Tribune, Chicago.

Two little boys combine, one a year older than the other, were riding their tricycles on the front walk when an elderly lady spoke kindly to them and said: "Are you little men the same age?"

Dannie, a first grader, spoke up quickly, "He just goes to kindergarten; I go to SCHOOL."

Lovely Washington Deb Reveals Beauty Secret

She says: "No more shiny noses. Mello-Glo Stays on Longer" New wonderful French-process MELLO-GLO is the purest face powder made. It keeps ugly shine away... prevents large pores... spreads more smoothly... never gives a party of flaky look. No wonder Miss Anna Smith, daughter of Senator and Mrs. Ellison D. Smith of South Carolina, prizes MELLO-GLO Face Powder above all others. You'll love it, too.

A MORNING on the beach—days of blistering discomfort to pay for it! But it needn't be so. If you're sunburned, soothe-o-o-th on Hinds Honey & Almond Cream. It will give instant relief. Cool the burn.

You can't sun without going through the burning stage. Smooth on Hinds Cream before going to the beach. Then you'll acquire a golden tan without suffering sunburn in the process. Try it and see. (Also, to prevent both sunburn and tan, use Hinds Cream with powder on it.) You can buy Hinds Cream anywhere.
